BOARD MEMBERS OF RED CROSS ASSIGNED JOBS

The assignment of members of the board of directors to positions on the various chapter committees expanding present personnel, was announced by Mrs. LeRoy H. Winebrenner, chapter chairman, at the regular meeting of the directors of the Adams County Chapter of the Red Cross Thursday evening in chapter headquarters, Baltimore street.

The directors are to meet with the committees, many of which will gather during the summer, and report back to the board on various committee undertakings.

At the same session Mrs. Winebrenner announced that the finance committee has been forced to make reductions in the chapter budget for the coming year because the fund drive fell short of its goal in this county by about $3,000.

With $11,214.03 raised and $3,546 of that sum sent to the National Red Cross as its percentage share of the amount raised, the chapter has adopted a revised budget setting expenditures at $10,460 for the period from June 1, 1948, to June 30, 1949. A change in the Red Cross fiscal year made the new date necessary.

Major Projects Not Cut

Mrs. Winebrenner emphasized that the most important chapter activities such as water safety, home nursing, and other first-line projects will not be hit by the budget cut. Production will be curtailed since the chapter has met all quotas assigned by the national office. The office staff now includes only Miss Margaret McMillan, executive secretary; Mrs. Elizabeth Pennington, assistant secretary, and Mrs. Effa Chapman.

Reports of officers and committee chairmen were submitted by Mrs. Pennington and Miss McMillan. Reporting for Mrs. Lester O. Johnson, Mrs. Pennington said the summer water safety program will be announced following a meeting of the water safety committee next Monday. She also said a first aid class has been completed and that 120 high school girls in the county are receiving home nursing certificates. Junior Red Cross work was reported upon and the expansion of the nutrition program in the county schools was described. The board was shown pictures of nutrition class sessions.

Miss McMillan said that 245 home service cases have been handled since March 1, a majority of the cases involving ex-servicemen. She also told of services being rendered. (Please Turn to Page 5)

EXPECT 500 FOR SUMMER TERM

More than 500 will enroll at Gettysburg college Monday for the annual 12-week summer school session, Charles R. Wolfe, registrar for the college, estimated today.

Registration will be held Monday and classes will begin Tuesday morning. During the 12 weeks the students will be given an entire year's work on two or three subjects. Most of the students will study only two subjects during the summer, while a few will have three courses, the registrar said.

Between 350 and 400 of the students will be veterans, who are for the most part seeking to complete their education as quickly as possible. Some will be men who entered school during off terms, immediately after their discharge and have been going to school summer and winter since then in order to get through as quickly as possible.

About 80 of the pupils will also be students from such nearby colleges as Dickinson, F. and M., Albright and Western Maryland where no summer school is being held.

SECOND CHERRY SPRAY IS URGED

A second cover spray, to be applied immediately, has been called for sour cherry orchards in a letter sent growers today by County Agent M. T. Hartman. The spray, to prevent leaf spot and brown rot infections, consists of two gallons of liquid lime sulphur and three pounds of fresh spray lime per 100 gallons of spray. As an alternate, two and one-half pounds of compound 341B and three pounds of fresh spray lime is suggested.

The letter points out that the application will be important in leaf spot control because of the weather continuing favorable for its development. Hartman's letter also suggests adding two pounds of lead arsenate to the spray around woodland, hedge rows and the like to combat late emerging curculios. Black cherry aphid is also fairly abundant in terminal growth of young trees, the letter states, adding that one quart of 40 per cent nicotine sulphate plus five pounds of fresh spray lime in 100 gallons of water will control the aphids. Non-bearing trees should be sprayed with Bordeaux, Hartman added.

Explains Use Of Old GAR Programs

The following communication was received today from the Sons of Union Veterans with reference to an item in the HERE AND THERE column of Thursday evening:

"There were no programs printed for GAR Memorial services held in the post room since 1944.

"The hymns and responsive reading printed on the 1944 programs were the same as those used on Sunday last, and for that reason the old programs were distributed so that the audience could use them in participating in the singing and responsive reading.

"The people were told when the programs were distributed, and the reason for their distribution and that they were old programs, was understood by the audience."

GAS COMPANY PLANS CHANGES

Harrisburg, June 4 (AP)—The Public Utility Commission today registered a $50,000 issuance of installment promissory notes by The Gettysburg Gas corporation.

A subsidiary of Columbia Gas and Electric corporation, the utility said it proposed to use the money to construct new facilities valued at more than $78,000.

Gene Williams, manager of the Gettysburg Gas corporation, today said he was not familiar with plans to construct new facilities here, after being advised of the above Associated Press dispatch.

Mr. Williams said that the company planned to remodel the local office building, do some work in the streets, and install a regulator in the east end of town but that he was not aware of any extensive expansion work.

Another dispatch from Harrisburg said the "improvements" would cost $78,756. The $50,000 promissory notes are registered at three and one-quarter per cent.

The improvement program was listed by the company in conjunction with the registration of a securities certificate.

VET TEACHER HAS RETIRED

Luther A. Yohe, Abbottstown, teacher at East Berlin for the past 28 years, prior to his retirement as a teacher with the close of school there last week, was a teacher for a total of 45 years.

He began teaching at White Hall in Mt. Pleasant township in 1901 at the age of 16. He had 56 pupils there and taught for two terms in the White Hall school. From there he went to Brushstown, now Locust Grove school in Coneago township, where he taught 67 pupils for one term.

After that he left the profession for two years, but returned to teaching again in 1906 at Red Hill school, Oxford township, where he taught for five years. Next he was an instructor for nine years in his home township, Hamilton. For the past 28 years he taught in East Berlin.

In 1908 he married Carrie Baker, who died in 1922. They had three children, Evelyn, born in 1909; Vivian, born in 1917 and Ralph, born in 1917. Ralph died in 1930.

Judge Goldsborough Orders John L. Lewis To Bargain

Washington, June 4 (AP)—John L. Lewis was ordered today to bargain with the Southern Coal Producers' association or possibly face another fine for contempt of court.

Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, who twice has fined Lewis and his United Mine Workers for contempt, issued the order.

Robert N. Denham, general counsel for the National Labor Relations Board, had asked that Lewis be directed to enter contract talks with the association, headed by Joseph E. Moody.

The judge said that it was apparent from the record that Lewis did not want to bargain with the Southern association because he wanted to "destroy" it.

He suggested that the United Mine

Workers chief might desire to bring about the destruction of the Southern association "because it is harder to deal with" a single unit than with representatives of the 14 smaller associations through the south which make up the association.

"Certainly it's unreasonable in this present case for the union to say 'we're entitled to one representative for 99 units and the Southern Producers' association is not entitled to one representative for 14 associations,'" he continued.

"That is not only not logical, but it is not reasonable," the judge said. New contract talks between coal operators and Lewis broke down May 18 when Lewis refused to consent to Moody sitting at the conference table as the association's representatives.

Goldsborough said: "This is a situation which of course affects our entire social fabric. 'But when the time comes that any movement—whether labor or not—undertakes to carry out its wishes by methods which ultimately disintegrate society—at that point it must stop.'"

The soft coal contract expires June 30, allowing less than a month for the operators and Lewis to make a new agreement.

L. ELLIS WAGNER, CLARK AND DEEN ARE FREED TODAY

Philadelphia, June 4 (AP)—Eight persons, including the fire chief at York (Pa.), were freed by quarter sessions Judge L. Stauffer Oliver today on charges of unlawful solicitation of funds for the Pennsylvania State Firemen's association.

Frederick of criminal indictments of conspiracy and unlawfully soliciting and collecting funds for a charitable organization were: L. Ellis Wagner, York fire chief; Frank Deen, Lancaster, Pa., deputy fire chief; Charles E. Clark, Wayne, Pa.; and John McCaffrey, Harry Sachkar, John Woodill, John C. Taggart and Benjamin Saltzman, all of Philadelphia.

"No Jurisdiction"

Oliver dismissed the indictments after sustaining demurrers by defense attorneys that the quarter sessions court had no jurisdiction in the case.

"This court is without jurisdiction," Judge Oliver said, "in view of the act (Pennsylvania Legislature) of June 5, 1947 which provides that prosecution for offenses that laid in this indictment shall be by summary proceedings before a magistrate."

"This conclusion makes it unnecessary to consider the defendants' contention that they are exempt from the provisions of the charitable solicitations act."

Had Waived Jury Trial

Oliver added, however, that Woodill, Taggart and Sachkar must still face trial under indictments charging them with false pretense in solicitation of funds.

Arguments for dismissal of the indictments were made last May 5 by Defense Attorney Thomas D. McBride who claimed the offenses, if anything, were a misdemeanor. McBride said the state law does not apply to fraternal organizations which the firemen's group claims to be.

Previously, Wagner, Deen, Clark, McCaffrey and Sachkar waived jury trial. Woodill and Taggart pleaded no defense at arraignment while the case against Saltzman was withdrawn after a psychiatrist testified Saltzman was mentally incompetent.

NOMINATE EISENHART

Robert N. Eisenhart has been nominated as postmaster for Aspers, according to an Associated Press Dispatch from Washington. His name is included in a list of postmaster nominations sent to the Senate by President Truman. O. P. House has been acting postmaster at Aspers since May, 1947.

New Flood Waters Sweep Northwest; Vast Damage

Portland, Ore., June 4 (AP)—Unbridled waters churned today through newly punched-out dikes on the Pacific northwest's far-flung flood front. More strained levees were crumbling. A new crest was rolling down.

The Fraser river in Canada smashed the barriers—at Barnston and Hatzie islands in British Columbia. The Canadian navy said all of 360 men, women and children on Barnston who fled for their lives ahead of the foaming water had reached safety. Most of them were taken off in ships to nearby Port Kells, the navy said.

Reinforcements rushed to soggy dikes along the lower Columbia river's shores in Oregon and Washington as the massive flow of the big river threatened to widen its most destructive 1,200-mile surge to the Pacific.

The fresh flood crest was mounting in the Columbia, far up in the mountains where the blazing sun too quickly changed the deep snowpack into runoff water. The Snake river, main Columbia tributary, also was rising.

LIBRARY BILL SUPPORT URGED

John Knickerbocker, librarian at Gettysburg college and member of the committee of the state library association seeking to secure passage of the library demonstration bill, in which a number of county organizations are interested, today urged local groups to write again to Congressmen Joseph W. Martin, Jr., and Chester H. Gross urging that the bill be brought up to a vote prior to the adjournment of Congress this month.

Knickerbocker pointed out that the bill, which passed the Senate, is now in committee in the House. If it is not acted upon at this session of Congress it will have to be started anew at the next session of Congress.

Congressman Gross informed Knickerbocker this week that as far as he could determine there is little chance of the bill coming before the House this session. Gross also added that he had heard only from librarians concerning the bill and would like to hear from others before making up his mind, Knickerbocker said.

Knickerbocker also announced that the American Library Association is planning a four year program designed to develop better service on the part of libraries throughout the United States. The program is designed to awaken interest and stimulate reading and discussion on important problems.

Army And Navy Tried Vainly To Fire Accused Spy Ring Head

Washington, Aug. 4 (AP)—Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, now accused of spying for Russia, stayed on the government payroll during the war although both the Navy and Civil Service Commission tried to get him off, it was disclosed today.

Washington, Aug. 4 (AP)—Nathan Gregory Silvermaster swore today he never was a spy for any foreign nation, but admitted that Naval Intelligence authorities once sought his removal from government service.

In the witness chair of the House un-American activities committee, Silvermaster also refused to answer questions as to whether he ever had been a Communist. His refusal was on grounds he might incriminate himself.

Reads Statement

The committee members then put back on the stand Elizabeth T. Bentley, the former Communist who originally brought the charges of espionage against Silvermaster. She said again that he is the man she knew during the war who turned secret information over to her for relay to the Russians.

While he refused to answer questions about any affiliation with the Communists, Silvermaster read a statement saying he had been cleared after investigation by various agencies, including the chief of the U. S. Secret Service and Secretary of War Patterson.

He produced a copy of a letter which he said Patterson had written in his behalf.

Refuses To Answer

And, he said, Lauchlin Currie had gone to see Patterson on his behalf, and that his boss, C. B. Baldwin likewise had intervened.

That, he said, was after Naval Intelligence had said he should not be trusted. Silvermaster said that this "was unjustified, a smear letter."

Robert E. Stripling, committee investigator, had Miss Bentley, who was in the audience, stand up. He asked if Silvermaster knew her. Silvermaster refused to say.

She had testified last week that Silvermaster headed one group of government workers who supplied information for the Russians.

To Hear Hiss

Before Silvermaster took the stand, Acting Chairman Mundt (R-S, Dak.) announced that the committee will hear Alger Hiss tomorrow.

Whittaker Chambers, a senior editor of Time magazine, told the committee yesterday that he was a Communist in the 1930s and knew Hiss at that time as a member of the "Communist underground" in Washington.

Mundt said the committee also will hear as soon as possible Doctor and Mrs. Bella Gold of Pittsburgh, who said charges by Miss Bentley were "shocking and completely untrue."

Miss Bentley named a Mr. and Mrs. Gold as part of the Communist spy rings with which she said she worked.

"The charges made by Miss Bentley are false and fantastic," Silvermaster said, "I can only conclude that she is a neurotic liar. I am and have been a loyal American citizen and was a faithful government employee. I am not and never have been a spy or agent of any foreign government."

BULLETINS

Paris, Aug. 4 (AP) — Air France said today it has received reports that an S. O. S. has been picked up from its giant flying boat, missing since Sunday with 52 persons aboard.

Dayton, O., Aug. 4 (AP) — Hopes of an early settlement in the Unilever Lens Co. labor dispute faded today after local 768, United Electrical Workers (CIO) voted to continue the strike "until a satisfactory agreement is reached."

Steel-helmeted National Guardsmen, called in Monday to prevent further picket-line violence, maintained their watch over non-strikers reporting for work this morning.

Milan, Italy, Aug. 4 (AP) — Il Corriere della Sera, a Milan newspaper, said today a Sicilian diver had reported the discovery of three submerged cities near Sicily which he estimated to date from 4,000 to 5,000 B. C.

Dr. Bernardo Brea, director of the Municipal Museum at Syracuse and regarded as Sicily's leading archaeologist, said a find of the proportion described was extremely unlikely, although the diver may have found remains of prehistoric civilizations.

RE-ELECT CULP HEAD OF CHILD WELFARE GROUP

C. C. Culp, Gettysburg, was re-elected president of the advisory committee of the Adams County Child Welfare services, at the annual election and picnic held Tuesday evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Geigley, Virginia Mills.

Other officers re-elected were Rev. Geigley, vice president; Luther Bosserman, Arendtsville, treasurer, and Mrs. Henry T. Bream, Gettysburg, secretary.

The names of two new members of the advisory committee and four present members for reappointment, were sent to the Adams county commissioners today for their approval and at the regular weekly meeting of the commissioners this morning were approved.

Enjoy Picnic Supper

New members are John S. Rice, Gettysburg, and George Taylor, Biglerville R. 1. Those whose names were submitted for reappointment are Mrs. Willis Weigle, Biglerville; Mr. Bosserman, Mrs. Guy Wenk, Wenksville, and Rev. Geigley.

Members of the families of the committee were present for the picnic supper, as were several special guests, including Miss Betty Hamel, a guest of Mrs. Wenk, who is enjoying a vacation in Adams county through the "Friendly Town" fund, and Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Dwight P. Putman of Gettysburg.

The picnic supper was served at 6 o'clock, followed by the business meeting.

Miss Christine Cunningham, secretary, expressed appreciation for the continued support of the committee. Three applications are under consideration for the position of visitor, she said, and the child welfare services hopes to have the position filled by September.

Miss Cunningham reported that the services' intake is increasing and that the number of children is now 114. An increasing number of families are availing themselves of a counseling and advisory service which seeks to provide help before children get into serious trouble, she said.

Two older boys were removed from the service's roles because they have obtained jobs, and one child has been placed for adoption. Five new ones have been added. Miss Cunningham reported that there is no shortage of foster homes and that she had been able to build up a waiting list.

To Help School Kids

At the suggestion of Miss Cunningham, the committee voted to provide lunch boxes for several children in rural areas. The committee also voted to provide, on individual recommendation of Miss Cunningham, allowances for high school children where needed.

County Commissioner and Mrs. Clark Petters were also among the guests, and Mr. Petters pledged the cooperation of the commissioners in child welfare work.

Mrs. Charles Yost, Biglerville, was chairman of the committee on arrangements and Mrs. George F. Eberhart, Gettysburg, was chairman of the nominating committee. Approximately 40 persons attended the picnic supper, including 11 members of the committee.

Larkin, 315 North Stratton street, and Jesse Maurice Tassencourt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Tassencourt of Paris and Philadelphia, took place on Monday at 3:30 p. m. on the island of Martha's Vineyard, off the coast of Massachusetts.

The ceremony took place on Katama Bay (Edgartown) in the home of Mrs. George Meade who is director of the Children's Art school on the island. The studio was the scene of the service with about 50 friends present. Garden flowers were used in profusion.

Dr. J. Thompson, pastor of the Congregational church, performed the double ring ceremony. The bride wore a hand-blocked peasant costume with a headress to match. She was attended by Miss Patricia Robeson as maid of honor while James Stirling acted as best man. Both are students at Michigan State university and are summer residents at Edgartown.

Attended College Here

Professor Vaclav Vytlaclil, who teaches at the Art Students' League and the Dalton school in New York City, gave Miss Larkin away. The bride has been a student in his art class for two summers.

Following the ceremony, a buffet supper was served to the guests which included Professor Vytlaclil's art class, friends from Harborside inn and friends of the hosts.

The bride was born in Chungking, China, and the bridegroom in Paris. Prof. Vytlaclil had been a neighbor and fellow art student of the groom's mother in Paris. GIVES DETAILS ON FBI SCHOOL HERE FOR POLICE

Further details of the FBI-Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police basic training school for law enforcement officers in Adams county, to be held here beginning in September, as announced last month in the Gettysburg Times, were given out today by L. V. Boardman, special agent in charge of the FBI.

Confirmation of the previous announcement follows a conference between Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster and Special Agent Walter V. McLaughlin of the Philadelphia office of the FBI. Plans are now in progress to start the training school on Tuesday, September 28. Classes will then be held at police headquarters here from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock on seven consecutive Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Boardman's announcement today said.

This is the first time that an FBI-PCPA training school has been brought to Adams county. Instructors will be made available from the FBI in Philadelphia and Washington, from the Pennsylvania State Police, and from outstanding police departments in the state.

"The Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police association," said Chief Harpster, "is cooperating with the FBI in a police training program that works on the premise that a law enforcement officer is entitled to proper training without expense, and in this school all law enforcement officers in Adams county will be given an opportunity to receive training in preservation of evidence, arrest procedures, proper method of testifying in court, and many others."

The invitation has been extended to constables, special police officers, and agents of the Pennsylvania Game commission. Those who attend the required number of sessions will receive diplomas, the chief said.

NEW JAIL WALL TO COST $7,796; CONTRACT GIVEN

Earl L. Cump, Chambersburg, contractor constructing the new Adams county jail, was given the contract to build a fence and wall about the jail yard by the Adams county commissioners this morning.

Cump's bid for the fencing job was the only one presented to the commissioners in response to requests for bids. He asked $7,796 for the job.

While the bid was the only one presented, the commissioners, after some discussion, held that in all probability, considering present day prices, the bid would be as low as any that could be obtained. It was pointed out that Cump, with his machinery and men here, would be able to give as low a bid as probably could be received. While no time limit was set for completion of the job, it was felt that the contractor will probably seek to have the wall and fence finished by the time he has the remainder of the structure completed — probably sometime next month — in order to move his machinery to other jobs.

May Take Over Bridge

The contract is for 152 lineal feet of 15-foot reinforced concrete block wall along the southern part of the jail yard and 163 feet of 12-foot wire fence along the eastern and northern sides of the yard.

The county commissioners will probably take over a bridge over a branch of Piney creek in Germany township, near Menges Mill, it was indicated in a discussion concerning the bridge between the commissioners and the Germany township supervisors this morning. Clayton L. Palmer, spokesman for the supervisors, pointed out that the bridge has now fallen into such disrepair that it will have to be replaced. When replaced, he pointed out, the structure will have to be extended from its present length of 17 feet to over 20 feet in order to handle the volume of water flowing under the structure. The present bridge is unable to handle all of the water during storms and as a result the stream often floods the road, halting traffic, and the force of the water has washed away the support of the bridge. The new length could place the bridge under the jurisdiction of the commissioners, it was pointed out. The county cannot have control of bridges under 20 feet in length.

Daniel E. Teeter, attorney for the supervisors, and Eugene V. Bullett, commissioners' attorney, are to work out the legal papers necessary to ask that the bridge be taken over by the county.

The placard quarantining the Harman home was removed Tuesday night by Health Officer Erle R. Deardoff.

Runoff Vote In Newfoundland

St. John's, Nfld., June 4 (AP) — A runoff vote to decide Newfoundland's political future appeared virtually certain today.

Returns from yesterday's plebiscite on the question, now about two-thirds counted, strongly indicated that none of the three proposals on the ballot had received the 51 per cent margin necessary to win.

The standing, with 120,264 of 176,297 eligible votes in is:

For return to independence and responsible self-government — 53,131.

For confederation with Canada as that dominion's 10th province — 49,185.

For retention of the present commission form of government — 17,948.

Those figures made only one thing sure: that Newfoundlanders — Newfies, they call themselves — do not want to remain any longer as a British colony. This rocky island ranked among the colonies as Britain's oldest.

In a runoff referendum the final decision would be between independence and confederation.

Eisenhower Says He's A Republican

New York, June 4 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is quoted in the current issue of Pathfinder news magazine as saying he could not run for the Presidency on a Democratic ticket because "he is a Republican."

In its column, "Under the Dome," the magazine said:

"In an exclusive statement to Pathfinder, the retired general said that he could never run for the Presidency on a Democratic ticket for the simple reason that he is a Republican. He will support whomever the Republicans nominate."

Eisenhower, president-designate of Columbia university, could not be reached immediately for comment.

However, a spokesman for the general said last week, when asked to comment on the Pathfinder article, that Eisenhower had told him that never to his knowledge had he "indicated to anyone at any time any thought which would be interpreted in such a way."

Warns Chinese On Student Agitation

Nanking, June 4 (AP) — The United States warned China today that Chinese student demonstrations against American policy in Japan are creating an increasingly dangerous situation.

(Chinese government officials have charged Communist agitators with stirring up these demonstrations, which frequently have turned into riotous disorders.)

Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart said the agitation "is seriously damaging the traditional cordiality between the United States and China and, if it continues, it may have unfortunate results."

He warned the students: "If those of you who agitate or participate in agitation against the United States on the question of Japan disagree with what I have said, then you must be prepared to face the consequences of your actions. Unless China and the United States can approach each other with mutual trust and confidence, peace and welfare are endangered."

The war bill was originally payable in goods in six years. Russia agreed later to extend the term to eight years.

MARSHALL HITS SLASH IN FUNDS

Washington, June 4 (AP) — Secretary of State Marshall said today that the proposed $533,000,000 House slash in foreign aid funds would turn the European Recovery Program into a "mere relief" project.

Marshall authorized this direct quotation at a news conference: "The reduction proposed would, I consider, alter the European program from one of reconstruction to one of mere relief."

Marshall spoke as the House headed into a bitter fight over the proposed slash in funds.

The Secretary said in response to a question that if the cut which was recommended yesterday by the House appropriations committee is confirmed by Congress, it will have a most serious effect on the political situation in Europe.

He was reminded that a year ago tomorrow he first proposed the Marshall Plan for European recovery, in a speech at Harvard university, but he said he had no anniversary sentiments to express.

Administration supporters were expected to make a major drive to restore cuts voted yesterday by the appropriations committee in recommending $5,980,710,288 to finance the global recovery program enacted two months ago.

Visiting Nurse by Kathleen Harris

Chapter 26

Long after she went to bed that night Hildred thought of what Lucien had told her — that he would kill himself if she would not help him, by marrying him.

Randy had warned her that her friendship with Lanier would lead her into trouble — and she had promised to go to him, if it did. But she could not go to Randy with this. She had promised Lucien that she would keep his dark secret, as he called it. Besides she and Randy were drifting further and further apart, it appeared, with each new happening.

She could make Jimmy the price of marriage; she could tell Lucien she would marry him if he would legally adopt the boy. That, then, would take care of this one important issue. But, even to give Jimmy such security, it was a big price to pay. For Hildred did not want to marry Lucien.

How she wished she had taken Mamie's advice and gone only that one time to visit the big house, knowing that it — and its people — were too far separate from her, and her kind, ever to mix.

She had tried to make that clear to Lucien. But he would not listen to her. He simply kept insisting that she must marry him, as if it were an obsession with him, as if it were the one slender thread of hope he had found to cling to.

And he had told her that his mother was ready — even eager — to accept her as her daughter-in-law. The Countess also believed that Hildred was her son's salvation. So that there were two of them against her. It was like a web that would tighten until there was no escape.

Well, she could indeed tell Randy now that she was headed for that altar — if against her own will! — with another. But would it do any good? Would it wake Randy up?

It had not mattered to Lucien that she did not love him. It had not even mattered that she had told him she loved someone else. Lucien was so sure he could buy everything he wanted. He would buy her now — first with Jimmy — she saw why he had taken an interest in the boy, even though it was growing into a genuine one now — next with her mother — on and on and on, so that there would be no escaping the web. Hildred had not said yes, but she had not said no. There was no need for either. Lucien took it as an established fact that they were betrothed. He had not asked her if she would marry him. He had said, "You know I am going to marry you, Hildred." And afterwards — long after they had gone to say good-night to Jimmy and had joined his mother and the other guests downstairs in the big drawing room, Lucien had behaved as if it were all settled.

When Hildred got home from the clinic the following day her mother told her that she had a visitor. "I was that surprised," Mrs. McNaughten said, "you could have knocked me over with a feather. And you might know she would catch me when I had been having my afternoon nap, and in my old wrapper. But she was as gracious and friendly as could be and we had a cup of tea and a piece of your cake, Hildy dear, and a right nice little chat."

For the visitor had been none other than the Countess. Yet Hildred was not as surprised as she might have been. Was this not another link in that tightening web? Also, she felt that the Countess, as her son had done before her, had come partly in order to convince herself that Hildred's background was what she said it was — and probably, also to see that it was not too bad for the future daughter-in-law of a Lanier.

Her mother's gentle face wore an expression that was slightly troubled, even though the visit had been a pleasant one. When Hildred did not

REPUBLICANS PROPOSE OWN INFLATION BILL

Washington, Aug. 4 (AP)—The Republicans formally proposed their own anti-inflation bill today amid prospects it may reach the House for action tomorrow.

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.), House Banking committee chairman, said the measure calls for restoring installment buying controls through next March 15 and for moderate tightening of bank credits. These steps have been freely predicted by GOP leaders.

The measure completely ignores President Truman's request for selective price-wage controls and rationing powers. Likewise, there is no mention of the President's proposed excess profits tax estimated to yield $4,300,000,000.

Discuss Strategy
Republican Senators concentrated on bringing up some form of Housing bill and on what to do about civil rights legislation—especially the anti-poll tax bill tied up by a southern filibuster.

The 51 GOP Senators were called together for a lengthy morning discussion of what legislation may be pushed in the session before adjournment.

One issue was a plan to concede the southern Democrats a victory in blocking the poll tax measure. The GOP leaders would propose instead a constitutional amendment calling for elimination of poll tax payments as a requisite to voting in Federal elections.

Pleads for Credit Controls
A group of House members headed by Rep. O'Toole (D-N. Y.) petitioned Republican leaders not to allow Congress to adjourn without acting on cost-of-living and housing legislation. O'Toole said "approximately 40 members" backed the request.

As the GOP anti-inflation bill was brought out, Treasury Secretary Snyder appeared before the House Banking group. Pleading for credit controls, Snyder said:

"Unfortunately, as a result both of the tax reduction bill (passed by Congress in the spring) and of the increased foreign aid and defense expenditures made necessary by the tense international situation, we no longer have a budget surplus at our disposal as a weapon for combating inflationary pressure. We must, therefore, lean to an increasing extent upon other measures for restriction of bank credit."

Long Cargo Dock Is Swept By Fire

Longview, Wash., Aug. 4 (AP)—A half-mile-long cargo dock of the Weyerhaeuser timber company on the Columbia river was swept by fire last night and may be a total loss. During the night a large crane toppled into the river and one of the four fire companies fighting the blaze reported loss of a fire truck. There were no reports of injuries among the 200 firemen.

The dock adjoins one of the largest concentrations of lumber mills in the region, but firemen prevented spread of the flames to the plants.

A Weyerhaeuser spokesman declined immediately to estimate damage. But one company fireman said the dock would cost several hundred thousand dollars to replace.

August — Lawn, Garden and Farm

1. Lay in an adequate supply of fertile loam for lawn repair. The proper time for rebuilding lawns is early September.

2. New roots of Oriental poppies may be planted now or old clumps divided and replanted.

3. Plow under soybeans for soil improvement before the stems become woody.

4. Superfine dusting sulphur or Bordeaux mixture prevents mildew of most ornamental and food plants.

5. Sow fresh pansy seed in a shaded bed for spring flowers.

6. Pot Calla bulbs now for indoor blooms over winter.

7. Continue consistent war to prevent weeds ripening their seed crops throughout August. Use immature weeds on compost heaps.

8. Furnish friendly birds a fresh bath occasionally during dry periods in late summer.

9. Sow kale for fall and early winter use. If grown on slight ridges, the leaves will be less contaminated with splashing soil.

10. Plant a liberal crop of beets for canning and burying.

11. Vigorously rooted strawberry plants may be set out now. Keep them watered liberally. This is a key to August planting.

12. Spray grapes with Bordeaux mixture a month before they are expected to ripen. This helps to prevent black rot.

13. Do not neglect to furnish pullets a well rounded ration. Their egg production in early winter depends largely on summer feeds.

14. Late potatoes are "made or run" in August. Spraying with Bordeaux mixture is the best form of insurance.

15. Plenty of berry-bearing shrubs will keep birds from eating food crops. Planning should be done now for late fall planting.

16. A liberal spray of wettable sulphur after fruit is picked is the best method for controlling cherry leaf-spot.

17. Guard tomatoes against late blight with Bordeaux mixture.

18. Dry extra supplies of fruits and vegetables for which canning does not provide suitable disposal.

19. Insulate and otherwise repair the poultry house.

20. Pot cyclamen bulbs for early winter indoor blooms.

21. Gather prematurely dropped fruits and feed them to hogs, bury or otherwise destroy them. They are often sources of danger.

22. Continue war against house flies with DDT, sticky paper and traps.

23. Plant a few rows of garden peas for an extra late crop.

24. Spinach should be seeded this week, also turnip seed for late greens.

25. If peach trees are infested with large borer which attacks the trunk base and large roots, write the editor for a copy of our control instructions.

26. Sow rye for late fall pasture and winter cover crop.

27. Keep onions free from weeds and grass so the bulbs can mature fully. Weeds and grass cause "soft-necks."

28. Ask a reputable tree surgeon to inspect cavities and other danger spots in valuable shade trees.

29. Laying hens need a well balanced ration in order to grow their new annual dresses. Feathers are manufactured solely from feed.

30. Prepare soil for planting peonies. The planting date? September 15 or nearabouts.

31. No late summer questions of farm, garden or lawn should be car-

Littlestown, current leader, meets York Springs on the latter's field in an important game while other games will be as follows: New Oxford at Orrtanna; Emmitsburg at Hanover.

The first of scheduled twilight league games are carded for Tuesday evening. The schedule for that day includes York Springs at Gettysburg, Hanover at Orrtanna, Littlestown at McSherrystown, Fairfield at New Oxford, and Bendersville at Emmitsburg.

Lady Luck frowned on Dick Rozek a second time last night as the 21-year-old Wilkes-Barre southpaw tried for a no-hit game.

A clean single to center from the bat of his opposing moundman, Art McConnell of Williamsport, broke up Rozek's bid for the select circle. An error by Nick Sunseri in right field deprived him of a shutout. Wilkes-Barre, in seventh place, beat the Tigers, 5-1, to take the edge in the series and shove Williamsport into third place.

The Albany Senators climbed into the runner-up spot by downing the Binghamton Triplets, 9-3, on a four-hitter by Len Yochim. The defeat pushed the Triplets down to fifth place.

In the other games, Utica moved up to fourth place by upsetting the Chiefs at Hartford, 8-1, and the league-leading Scranton Red Sox had little difficulty in disposing of the cellar-dwelling Pioneers at Elmira, 8-3.

See Chance For U.S. Victory In Derby

Epsom, England, June 4 (AP) — American chances of a derby win at Epsom tomorrow rose steadily as windy showers and slow footing were predicted for the 169th running of the British flat racing classic.

The chief American hope in the 33-horse event, New York banker William Woodward's Black Tarquin, likes the going heavy and should have an edge on tough opposition if the bad weather prevails.

Bookmakers at the final derby callover tonight are expected to cut the current odds of 100 to 7 against Black Tarquin.

The other American-bred colt, Senator 2nd, is in peak shape for the mile and a half test for three-year-olds. H has a mile and a quarter win under his belt this season.

Compton, Calif., June 4 (AP) — Compton college stages its ninth annual invitational track and field meet tonight and hopes to shed a little more light on the chances of leading athletes to make the American Olympic games team.

Features of the meet include: the 440-yard run between Herb McKenley, of the Shore Athletic club, and Colorado's Dave Bolen. Lloyd La Beach, unattached, moving into the 220-yard dash for the first time this year, running against McKenley, Berney Ewell, ex-Penn State flash who may concentrate on the furlong instead of the 100-yard dash, and others.

St. Annes-On-The-Sea, England, June 4 (AP) — Atlanta's Little Louise Suggs pulled up the third chunk of golfing silverware lost by Britain in 12 days — and left the country's downhearted links pundits wishing for Marshall aid in golf.

Louise trudged all the way up to the 36th green through a ripping gale and icy rain yesterday to capture the British Women's golf championship with a one-up victory over Jean Donald, daughter of a Scotch country doctor. The new champion, who succeeds the now professional Mrs. Babe Didrickson Zaharias of Denver, Colo., sails for home Saturday with other members of the United States' victorious Curtis Cup team.

Chicago, June 4 (AP) — Rookie Richie Ashburn, one of the youngsters in the Philadelphia Phillies' "youth movement," was beaming like a summer sun in his native Nebraska after yesterday's game with the Chicago Cubs.

Three hits for five, including a double, one RBI and a stolen base, was the quick summary of his afternoon's job in centerfield. His hit-streak stretched to 20 straight and his hitting mark sky-rocketed to 373 — very close to the National league lead. His stolen base total was 12, tops in the major leagues. But, best of all, his father and mother were in the Wrigley Field stands to watch their 21 year old son in a major league uniform.

Harrisburg, June 4 (AP) — Marksmen from Pennsylvania, Maryland and the District of Columbia will compete here tomorrow in the spring pistol tournament of the Harrisburg Hunters and Anglers association. State police teams from Pennsylvania and Maryland will compete along with the Washington, D. C. police team. Several other teams from sections are also entered.

BLACKWELL IN FINE FORM AS REDS TRIUMPH

By BEN PHILEGAR

Associated Press Sports Writer
The Cincinnati Reds have come up with a lot of bad news for the seven other National league clubs. Ewell Blackwell's back in form.

The stringbean righthander, sidelined for a month with a sore shoulder, last night won his first game since April 23. He held the slugging New York Giants to two hits and a pair of runs in seven innings. Nine Giants went down on strikes, although Mickey Livingston blasted a bases-empty home run for the New Yorkers in the fifth.

Blackwell, who walked six, retired after the seventh and the Reds quelled a ninth inning rally to win, 6-4. Blackwell retired after he complained he was having difficulty breathing as the result of a heavy head cold.

Hank Sauer hit his 14th home run with nobody on in the seventh for the Reds.

The victory moved Cincinnati into sixth place in the National league, only four and a half games back of the leading Giants.

Cards Snap Streak

The loss cut the Giants' first place margin to a half-game over the St. Louis Cardinals, who broke a six-game losing streak. The Red Birds tripped Brooklyn, 4 to 1, in Sportsman's Park behind the brilliant four-hit pitching of Harry "The Cat" Brecheen.

The Pittsburgh Pirates pulled to within a game of the top by outlasting Boston, 5 to 3. The Braves picked up a run in the eighth, scored another and had the bases loaded with none out in the ninth when Elmer Singleton came to Kirby Higbe's rescue. The former Boston right-hander shut off the hitting immediately, although a final tally came across on a force play.

Young Richie Ashburn, whose powerful spring hitting boosted him from the Class A Eastern league to the Philadelphia Phils, connected safely in his 20th consecutive game as the Phils downed Chicago, 4 to 3. Ashburn, the league's fourth hitter, smashed two singles and a double.

Tigers, Sox Win

In the American league, Detroit sported four runs in the 11th inning to defeat New York, 6 to 2, and Boston turned back St. Louis, 3 to 2. Cleveland at Washington and Chicago at Philadelphia were rained out.

Hal Newhouse held the Yanks to six hits in winning his fourth straight game. Hoot Evers and Vic Wertz homered for Detroit, while Joe DiMaggio accounted for both New York tallies with a single and a long fly.

Jack Kramer tumbled his former St. Louis mates out of first division with his eight hitter. Whitey Platt, rookie Brownie left fielder, homered with one aboard for the St. Louis runs in the seventh inning.

Prep School Ace Is Signed By Phillies

Thomaston, Ga., June 4 (AP)—Another Georgia Peach has started up the long trail that leads to baseball fame and fortune.

Hugh Frank Radcliffe, 19-year-old prep school strikeout king and holder of the world's record for the most strikeouts in a single nine-inning game, was signed yesterday by the Philadelphia Phillies for their Wilmington, Del., club in the Class B inter-state league.

A reliable source said the national leaguers paid the R. E. Lee high

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, June 4 (AP)—It was the Cardinals' Eddie Dyer who was orating last spring about the advantages of a "strong bench" in baseball, but the Yankees' Bucky Harris apparently is taking those advantages.

When Charley Keller broke his hand trying to make a shoe-string catch the other night, Bucky had his $18,000 bench warmer, Johnny Lindell, ready to go in there.

And Johnny merely won the ball game by knocking in the only run. . . . A few days before Snuffy Stirnweiss had been beamed and Bobby Brown moved in at second and rattled off seven straight hits in a doubleheader. . . . Both of them had appeared before, due to injuries to Tommy Henrich and Phil Rizzuto, and George McQuinn and Steve Souchock have been alternating at first.

In fact the usually brittle Joe DiMaggio and Bill Johnson are the only Yanks who have played every game, but the club doesn't seem to have suffered much.

INTERSTATE LEAGUE

(By The Associated Press)

The Sunbury Reds remained 17 percentage points out of first place in the Interstate league today although topping the Wilmington Blue Rocks by a half game on a won-lost basis.

Sunbury turned back the Trenton Giants in a see-saw battle last night, 6-5. Sunbury's playing manager Joe Buzas made the fielding play of the contest when he put out a pair of Trenton base runners unassisted in the fourth frame.

The Hagerstown Owls sank deeper into the league basement as they lost to the Allentown Cardinals 14-5 in the only other game played. The York-Lancaster and Harrisburg-Wilmington games were rained out.

Today's schedule: Allentown at Hagerstown, York at Lancaster, Harrisburg at Wilmington and Trenton at Sunbury.

Connie Mack Is Honored At Dinner

Philadelphia, June 4 (AP)—Connie Mack was honored last night by the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce in recognition of his 65th season in organized baseball and 48th consecutive year as manager of the Athletics.

Arthur C. Kauffman, president of the chamber, described the A's leader as a "remarkable man whose long public life has been a living symbol of good sportsmanship and an inspiration to millions of Americans."

A big dinner was held under the west stands of Shibe Park and some 200 Philadelphians from all walks of life paid their respect to the venerable Mack often referred to as "Mr. Baseball."

The party was to have seen the night game scheduled between the Athletics and Chicago White Sox but it was postponed because of rain.

Held to but one hit by Bartholomew, Texas Lunch left-handed hurling ace, the State Highway took advantage of several bases on balls and fielding blunders on the part of the lunchmen to eke out a 4-3 Community Softball league victory on Tuesday evening on the high school field before a large crowd.

Bartholomew, who suffered a fracture of the ring finger on his right hand in fielding a fly, gave up a triple to George Gorman in the last of the sixth. A base on balls, outfield fly and an infield miscue gave the highway two runs and the decision. A pair of walks and an outfield blunder produced two highway runs in the first round.

The lunchmen scored twice in the opening frame when Pryling singled to send over a pair of runners and in the sixth Pryling also singled to score a runner.

The Elks continued their drive for a playoff position by disposing of the Acme 11-8 in a weird game in the nightcap on the high school field.

After the Elks piled up a 10-0 lead in the first five frames it was decided to play the sixth inning despite semi-darkness. The Elks added a run and then the Acme came up with eight runs in the last half during which spectators and players were barely able to see the ball.

Seven runs in the first inning enabled the Lentz Legion to win from Grandview in the opener on the college field 11-7.

Smith, Legion third baseman, collected five of his team's 15 hits, two of which were home runs.

The VFW rallied in the final inning to gain an 8-7 decision over the Recreation Center in the second game on the college field. The vets held a lead early in the game but the Recreation nine rallied for five runs in the fifth to deadlock the score.

Mary Bilheimer Wins Ladies' Golf Honors

In the first Ladies' Day events held at the Gettysburg Country club Tuesday Miss Mary Bilheimer won the golfing honors with a net of 76. Mrs. R. F. Swope took second prize with a net of 79.

Mrs. Swope and Mrs. Marion Bream tied for the least number of putts used in their 18-hole round with Mrs. Swope winning the prize on a toss of a coin. They each had 30 putts, which is six under par. In the putting contest held on the putting green Mrs. Portia Reed and Mrs. Betty Kenworthy tied for low. The playoff was decided after putting 18 holes and Mrs. Reed came out the victor to receive a prize.

Mrs. Marion Bream had the best low net scores with a pair of 46's for 92.

Despite inclement weather the women all played 18 holes. Non-golfing women played bridge in the club house.

SEND QUERIES ON PIAA SERIES

Harrisburg, Aug. 4 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association sounded out sentiment today on the idea of a "little world series" to decide a state scholastic baseball champion.

Executive Secretary Edmund Wicht said questionnaires asking for local viewpoints are now being sent. They will be mailed within a month to those of the PIAA's 1,039 member schools which have baseball programs.

Results of the questionnaire, Wicht said, will be presented to the PIAA's board of control at a meeting here in the latter part of October.

The board recently decided that it was not adverse to the idea of baseball playoffs which would extend diamond play after the close of the regular school term. Wicht earlier expressed the thought that local school districts would have to make arrangements with coaches to continue at their jobs into the summer. "The board of control, in conformance with its policy, however," a statement said, "voted to submit the question to member schools with baseball teams to determine their sentiment and act in accordance with the majority will of the member schools."

Ben Hogan Breaks Course Record In Win

Buffalo, N. Y., 2 Aug. 4 (AP)—Ben Hogan, the mighty mite from Hershey, Pa., won the 1948 western open on Monday by one of the widest margins in big-time golf history.

Hogan yesterday trounced Ed (Porky) Oliver of Seattle by nine strokes in their 18-hole playoff. They finished the regulation 72 holes over the 6,663-yard Brookfield country club layout all even at 281.

Hogan thus became the first man to hold the national open, the western and the PGA simultaneously. His playoff round of 64 was eight under par and smashed the course record by two strokes.

FIREMEN CALLED

The wooden framework of a control room for a new dry kiln at the Adams County Novelty company, 112 Carlisle street was damaged at 6:40 o'clock Tuesday night by fire believed to have been started by a short circuit in an electrical conduit. Gettysburg firemen were called and used a booster line to extinguish the fire.

VIRTUAL 4-WAY TIE IN RECORD AMERICAN RACE

By JOE REICHLER
 (Associated Press Sports Writer)

The greatest of all American league pennant races approached the two-thirds mark today in an unprecedented situation—a virtual four-way tie for first place among Cleveland, New York, Boston and Philadelphia. A mere .006 percentage points separated the four teams.

As a result of last night's games, the Indians regained the top rung by defeating the Washington Senators, 5-3, while the Athletics dropped from first to fourth by losing to the Chicago White Sox, 2-1, in 10 innings. The Yankees took over second place by trouncing the Detroit Tigers, 15-3, and the Red Sox advanced to third by outslugging the St. Louis Browns, 15-8.

The National league race also was tightened appreciably when the front-running Braves were beaten 5-4 by Cincinnati while the rest of the first division, New York, Brooklyn and St. Louis were idled by rain. In picking up half a game the Giants advanced to within four and a half games of the Braves, and the Dodgers and Cardinals to within five and a half.

Victory for Paige
 Old Satchel Paige, making his first Major league start before 72,434—the largest night game crowd in Cleveland history—gained the honor of pitching the Tribe back into first place. The 44-year-old negro righthander hurled seven innings, allowing the Senators seven hits before he was taken out for a pinch hitter. He struck out six and walked four.

Dick Fowler of the Athletics had the White Sox shut out 1-0 on only one hit going into Chicago's half of the ninth. Taft Wright cracked a pinch hit single, advanced to third on a bunt and a sacrifice, and scored the tying run on Pat Seer's long fly. With one out in the last of the 10th, Fowler surrendered his fourth and fifth walks to Dave Philley and Cass Michaels. Jack Wallaesa batted for Howie Judson, who relieved Starter Randy Gumpert in the top of the 10th, and singled to right, scoring Philley with the winning run.

Braves Lose Another
 The Yankees clubbed four Tiger pitchers for 12 hits, including home runs by George McQuinn, Tommy Henrich and Yogi Berra, to enable Frank Shea to coast to his sixth triumph.

Collecting a dozen hits against six pitchers and using 10 bases on balls to advantage, the Red Sox routed the Browns to keep pace with the Yankees and Indians. Stan Spence and Ted Williams banged homeruns, the former driving in four runs.

Rookie First Baseman Red Kluwecki drove in three runs with a triple and double to give the Reds their second straight triumph over the Braves in the only National league game. It was the third successive loss for the Braves.

Herman Wehmeier, 21-year-old hurler, pitched the first seven and one third innings for the Reds and was credited with his eighth victory although he needed assistance from Veteran Harry Gumbert in the eighth.

Yanks Trip Cards In Youth League

Kansas City, Aug. 4 (AP)—Fourteen or fifteen clubs in ye old golf bag? Or does the number really matter?

The United States Golf Association decrees the limit shall be fourteen. A notable disagreement with the U. S. G. A. fathers was evidenced in the 45th Western Amateur when former Champion Wilford Wehrle, of Louisville, Ky., disqualified himself when he turned up with fifteen clubs. . . . Wilford's opponent, James McHale, of Philadelphia, and Marvin (Bud) Ward contended it "wasn't fair" for a fellow to lose that way, especially when the Kentucky shooter didn't know himself how the extra stick got in the bag. . . . And Sammy Snead likely would support an increase. He was disqualified because of an extra club in the 1946 Western Open.

Time was when many golfers lugged around more than two dozen clubs. They had four types of wedges. They had windjammers. They had number 5 woods. There were cleeks about. . . . And then there was the night Walter Hagen caught Lawson Little in a hotel lobby loaded down with clubs (Little had 25 in his bag). . . . "Hey, Junior, why do you need all those clubs?" the Haig asked. "When I was young, fellows like Chick Evans, Francis Ouimet and myself operated with eight or less. You can make seven shots with a niblick. Why don't you try it?"

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Former Governor Fisher Lands

Memory of Soldier Dead: Gettysburg joined with the nation on Tuesday in honoring the memory of soldier dead and paying homage to those veterans of all wars who have so gallantly defended their country at home and abroad.

John S. Fisher, of Indiana, former governor of Pennsylvania, was principal speaker at the exercises in the National cemetery here.

John D. Keith presided at the exercises at the rostrum after being presented by the Rev. L. B. Hafer, chairman of the Sons of Union Veterans' committee.

Lincoln's immortal Gettysburg address was read by the Rev. Dr. M. Coover. The Gettysburg Boys' band and the Gettysburg American Legion post band and the York Springs band, furnished the music.

The Rev. Mr. Hafer pronounced the benediction and Sergeant W. L. Baldwin sounded taps.

Dr. Henry Stewart was chief marshal of the parade and John E. Slaybaugh and William Timmins were his aides.

Former Governor Fisher arrived by automobile from his home in Indiana about mid-forenoon and went to the home of Attorney and Mrs. John D. Keith, Carlisle street.

The committee in charge of the exercises comprised the Rev. Mr. Hafer, Charles F. Bodley, Judge Donald P. McPherson, William L. Meals, Esq., and G. Harry Roth.

Grad Purchases Paper Agency of P. W. Stallsmith: Stewart H. Moyer, of Souderton, a graduate of Gettysburg college in the class of 1932, has purchased the newspaper agency of P. W. Stallsmith. Moyer will have his office in the Stallsmith building.

Mr. Stallsmith has handled the sale and distribution of newspapers here for 22 years.

89 Diplomas Are Awarded at High School: A pageant, depicting the origin and development of Pennsylvania, its industries, fine arts and varied activities and its challenge to the future, was ably presented by the 89 members of the graduating class in connection with commencement exercises Thursday evening.

In the last part of the pageant, Dr. Thomas L. Cline gave an address in which he pointed out that the same courage, foresight and determination that motivated the founders of the Commonwealth is needed in the state today.

Professor Guile W. Lefever called the class roll, after which Professor L. C. Keefe presented the diplomas.

Prizes and Awards: Alumni four-year prize—M. Kathleen Black and Peter H. Smith.

Founders and Patriots of America prize—Virginia Jones.

Local Patrolman Weds County Girl: In a beautiful setting and before the largest crowd that ever jammed the State theatre, Hanover, Miss Mildred G. Fleming, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Fleming, Straban township, and Patrolman Harold S. Roberts, of the local sub-station of the state motor patrol, son of Emil Roberts, of Elkins Park, were married on the stage of that theatre at 9 o'clock Thursday evening.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Harold Little, pastor of the Pines Lutheran church.

Miss Beatrice Heck and Miss Freda Spence were the bride's attendants. Miss Esther Fleming was ring bearer and Little Misses Shirley Willet and Caroline Lincoln, Han-

THE FRIENDLY WORD

The friendly word always takes a long journey—and it never quite completes its journey. It may turn up a hundred years hence! Many a business has been founded upon nothing more, for people always return to the source of the friendly word.

I recall an experience when traveling through the town of Cumberland, Maryland. I drew up my car to park, and a gentleman rushed up and said: "You are a stranger here. Park here as long as you want. We welcome strangers!" Well, that was such a unique experience—that friendly word—that ever since I have gone out of my way to pass through that town. Would that there were more like it!

It is a joy to travel in the West, for people out there seem to be so friendly. One morning, upon my first visit to San Francisco, I went out of my hotel and the first man I met greeted me with a "Good Morning." Nobody did that for me upon my first visit to New York City. But it was done in Boston and New England, and in Nova Scotia. That's one reason why, many years ago, I bought a small island home in the latter, where for 18 years I have gone to bathe my soul during those glorious Nova Scotia summer months.

People trade at the store, and put their money in the bank, where the friendly word is the one big asset. And what an asset it is! I have walked out of many a store where it was absent, as everyone has. I cross a toll-bridge every day to my office where the fare-taker says "Thank you" each time—and it is said thousands of times a day to others. The friendly word is a wonderful password to any city.

The friendly word to one in sorrow or trouble often means more than anything else. It is more than money. It is better than any medicine. You can travel anywhere on earth if you have a goodly supply of friendly words to give and to leave.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "How Much? Going—Gone!"

WHY THE CURTAIN?
When a counterfeiter works,
Dark the room in which he lurks.
'Gainst discovery care he takes;
It is spurious coin he makes.

When a better thing is made,
It's inventor, unafraid,
Brings it out in public view,
Saying: "See what it will do."

"Come and try it and behold
This improvement on the old.
I am showing it with pride.
Test it first and then decide."

If a tyrant's way be clean,
Why the curtain and the screen?
If it's better than our own,
Why afraid to have it shown?

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
THE RIGHT WAY

It takes many people a lifetime, though sometimes less, to learn one of the most valuable lessons in life—that there is but one right way to do a thing, but perhaps a thousand wrong ways. I learned this truth early in life, after many a setback and blunder. Now I try first to think out the right way as nearly as I can. Of course one does not always know the right way—but it's there just the same for us to discover.

And here is a funny angle—the right way is usually the obvious way! Saves a lot of trouble to store this away in one's brain. We discover a great many valuable ideas when we think things out. That's why we have so many valuable inventions and improvements. That's what makes for progress and growth—in business and in character.

It's only when we blunder, without rhyme or reason, that we get into trouble. Just every-day common sense could change the complexion of the world—almost overnight! If the high priests of politics would only adhere to this the world would be on its right way to peace, plenty, and universal happiness. How sad that they prefer to mess up things, keep the world in a turmoil, and spray their poison of fear in all directions.

Take the mere driving of a car, for example. The only right way is the safe way. If people adhered to this there would be few accidents. Many people think that the right way to get a thing done is to do it in as brief a time as possible. Nothing is gained—and maybe much lost—by rushing through a job. There is the old adage, "The more haste the less speed." The more haste, as a rule, the less is done! Accuracy and time work together.

Our forefathers took time, and did things well. They had to, for they had little and things had to last. Our mass production brings in a lot of money, but what is manufactured does not last so long as when men took pride in everything produced, and made things right. We tire too easily of the things we use. We want something new, something different—even though it may not serve so well. Why is it? I don't know, unless it is that we glory in change!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "New Currents"

MAN'S NEEDS

Has mother tried to let you know

That man is prey to mood and whim.

And after marriage he will go

Where you cannot accompany him?

You'll often see him pack his grip

To take a week-end fishing trip.

Though constant unto you he'll stay,

There is so much a man enjoys.

When autumn comes you'll hear him say:

"I'm going hunting with the boys."

However great his need for you,

You'll learn he needs his comrades, too.

He'll wander off, but he depends

On you always to understand

When he is with his business friends

That he has great affairs on hand.

You'll often see him slip away

To share the games men like to play.

If this you know, then you are wise.

Your love should last till life shall close.

You won't be taken by surprise

When after deer or ducks he goes.

It seems that men are born to care

For joys their wives can seldom share.

DANUBE PARLEY MIRRORS TOUGH RUSSIAN POLICY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

While the western world is speculating on what degree of Russian cooperation (if any) may grow out of the Stalin parley, the Belgrade conference on control of the Danube river provides a mirror which reflects a hard-boiled Bolshevik determination to grant the democracies nothing which impedes Red expansion.

Prior to the war the Danube had been under international control which gave rights to both eastern and western powers. As a matter of fact the Paris agreement of 1921, providing for such control is still on the books, but the Russians and their satellites have assumed complete domination of the waterway charging that the western allies broke the pact.

So it is that we find the warring parties assembled in Belgrade to discuss a new "agreement" for Danubian control. Theoretically the conference is to reestablish free navigation, but practically the matter was virtually fixed in advance by the Communists. The Russians have presented a new agreement under which the Danubian countries have exclusive control of the water thoroughfare. Moreover these states have a majority in the conference and can dictate what they wish. The line-up is America, Britain and France on the one side and the other Russia, the Ukraine, Bulgaria, Romania, Yugoslavia, Hungary and Czechoslovakia. Germany isn't directly represented and Austria is permitted to sit only as an observer.

Won't Be Bullied
Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky sounded the key-note of the conference right at the start. He told the representatives of the western powers to accept decisions of the Communist-dominated parley or get out.

Yesterday Vishinsky got an answer from the chief British delegate, Sir Charles Peake, who accused the Russian of trying to dominate the conference through control of the eastern states. Declared the irate Briton:

"I for one have no intention of being bullied or intimidated. The United Kingdom will not jump at the crack of Mr. Vishinsky's whip. Let me make that plain."

Later Peake quoted a remark by Vishinsky that the western powers have treated the Danubian states in the past as a cook treats potatoes in the kitchen. And Peake commented:

"A vivid and homely phrase but, I ask you, who is cook here?"

Vishinsky grinned, and pointed toward himself with his thumb.

Says Pa. Forced To Raise Milk Prices

Pittsburgh, Aug. 4 (AP)—Chairman H. N. Cobb of the state Milk Control Commission says Pennsylvania is being forced to raise prices to prevent draining of milk into other states with higher prices.

He made this statement as the commission opened a hearing here on a possible raise in the Pittsburgh marketing area.

It has been persistently reported that the amount of this raise will be 2 1/2 cents and that the increase will be statewide. This would bring retail milk to 23 cents a quart, highest price ever, in the 13-county Pittsburgh area.

Cobb said he could not discuss the figure which the commission would set and that no announcement of any will be made prior to a series of conferences August 5 and 6 in Harrisburg. Probably, he said, the Pittsburgh area raise will not be disclosed until an even later date.

Communists Laud Stalin And Wallace

New York, Aug. 4 (AP)—American Communists jammed into Madison Square Garden Monday for a noisy demonstrative national convention of their own—highlighted by censure of both the Democrat and Republican and praise for both Russia and Henry A. Wallace.

Speakers at the opening session of the convention, the first to be held by the group since 1945, were high party chiefs, all of whom are under Federal indictment on charges of advocating the overthrow of the U. S. government by violence and force.

William Z. Foster, national chairman of the party in this country and the top leader of the group of 12 arrested two weeks ago on grand jury's charges, was the convention keynoter.

He told the estimated 20,000 persons, in a fiery speech that bristled with attacks on "Fascist, Wall Street Imperialists," that a vote for either President Truman or Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican Presidential candidate, "means a vote for eventual Fascism or war."

GETS LIFE FOR MURDER

Shanghai, Aug. 4 (AP)—A retired general was sentenced to life imprisonment today — for murdering his wife last spring when she insisted upon living with him after he had taken a second wife. Police still are looking for a man that Maj. Gen. Chen Hsi-Wu said had helped him kill her.

A MAN IN THE HOUSE

By Florence Stuart

Chapter 15

So Ted Eggleston moved in to live with the Whittiers, and if there was one thing that pleased Jane more than another, at the start, it was that Carl seemed to like him so well. She had worried a little about Ted. Ted was, and anyone could tell it just to meet him, all the things that Carl never had been.

She had been afraid that Carl might put Ted down as a pretty-boy charmer and decide he didn't want that sort of fellow around the house. But when she tried to feel Carl out, approaching the subject in a rather round-about way: "Our Ted certainly knows how to turn on the charm around the gals, doesn't he?" Carl simply laughed.

"Ted's all right," he said. "He's a nice kid."

"Not such a kid, Carl. He went through three years of war, saw some of the toughest fighting in the Pacific. And he's only a few years younger than you are."

"He's still just a kid. Maybe he always will be. You can't always measure age by years and experiences, Jane. It's that impression the years and the experiences have left on you. They seem to have passed Ted over very lightly, unless he's deeper than we think and is burying things inside himself. He may grow up later on, find himself, learn a more adult approach to life. However, he's an extremely likeable boy and I enjoy having him around the house. Don't you?"

"Yes," Jane said. "I do. I think it's swell having him here. If you do."

"Good," Carl said. "I'm perfectly satisfied. In fact, it's something of a relief to me in a way, having Ted here. I get so swamped with details. I have to spend so many evenings working if I'm ever to get the material together for that book. It's sometimes worried me that I have so little time to amuse you or take you out. Ted seems to like to hang around the house evenings and he's company for you. And you seem to enjoy him."

From the day that Ted moved in, there began to be as subtle change in Jane, scarcely noticeable at first unless one were watching her very closely. She wasn't conscious of it herself. At least not at first.

For one thing, she laughed more easily and much more often than she had in a long time. Well, that wasn't to be wondered at. How could you help laughing at that idiot, Ted, actually setting out to do the housework!

Wonder of wonders, he really could manipulate a vacuum cleaner. And what's more, he seemed to enjoy doing it. Jane couldn't imagine how he had ever worked out his college schedule to leave so much free time. But he swore he wasn't skipping classes, and he showed her his list of class hours to prove it.

Saturdays he had free, the whole day. And Wednesday afternoons. And odd hours in between. Wednesday, he thought, was a good day for the cleaning. Because no one else ever cleaned on Wednesdays, and he liked to be different.

"Why," he demanded solemnly, "do people always clean on Fridays or Saturdays?"

"Some do it on Monday," Jane informed him.

"Well, there you are. Fridays, Saturdays, or Mondays. And I'm not even sure you know what you're talking about. Monday, my pretty dear, is wash day. And why? Habit. People form a habit, and it goes on generation after generation, and no one ever stops to ask themselves why. Well, you and I are going to change all that. We're going to set a new pattern. Therefore, in this establishment, Wednesday will be cleaning day. And Saturday we go after the dirty linen."

"You fool," Jane giggled. "Honestly, Ted, you're the craziest thing. Look, I wasn't serious about having you help with the housework. I don't want you to."

"Well, I want to," Ted said. "And that settles that. Good Lord," he added, pretending to become quite heated on the subject, "don't you want to keep your hands soft and glamorous? Don't you want to keep them satiny smooth, lovely as rose petals against your husband's whiskery cheek? Do you suppose that wonderful professor of yours would ever have fallen in love with you if your fingers had scratched? Do you? Just tell me that. Scratchy fingers. Ugh!" Ted made a quite dreadful face.

Jane sat down on a floor cushion and went weak with laughter. "Honestly, Ted," she said. "Honestly. Were you born a screwball, or did you work it out yourself?"

"What do you think?"

He was cute when he went to work with the vacuum cleaner. He could run it with one hand while he rolled and lit a cigarette with the other. Jane couldn't imagine how he did it. "You must teach me to do that, Ted," she said. "Rolling the cigarette, I mean. With one hand. Not that I want to roll my own, even with two hands. But it would be a nice trick to know."

Ted winked at her. "I know a lot of other nice tricks, beautiful."

Chapter 16

Ted liked to work around the house.

Once he said, grinning: "The devil finds work for idle hands to do."

Jane burst out laughing. "You sound like Aunt Mae. She's always quoting some moth-eaten platitude."

"I'd like to meet your Aunt Mae," Ted said politely. "She must be quite an interesting character."

"Oh, she disapproves of you already."

"Disapproves of me? How come?"

"That is, she disapproves of our having you in the house. Aunt Mae thinks it's a disgrace to take a roomer."

"Well, I'm a paying guest, aren't I? I pay with good hard cash. And the sweat of my brow besides."

"But what Aunt Mae disapproves of most—" Jane wrinkled her nose—"she thinks you might want to make love to me."

"Well," Ted said matter of factly. "I do want to. Naturally, I've wanted to since the first minute I set eyes on you. I haven't done anything about it," he added, "thinking as how you might slug me if I tried it."

"And you're so right!" Jane darted a quick grin at him. "You're so terribly, terribly right."

"You don't want me to, then. Is that definite, beautiful? Or is it subject to change at some future date?"

"Silly. Of course I don't want it. And look, Ted, let's not get on that subject."

"Why not? Personally, I've always thought making love was an excellent subject for discussion. No telling where it will lead. You afraid to talk about it?"

"Of course I'm not afraid. And," Jane said firmly, "I isn't going to lead us anywhere because we aren't going to talk about it. Not you and I. You save your discussions of love for some of those thrill-hungry ceds who are always calling you on the telephone. And oh, that reminds me—yesterday evening some girl called and left her phone number so you could call her back. I forgot to tell you. Do you know a girl named—well, Chick, it sounded like."

Ted yawned. "Oh, Her. Sure I know Chick." He sounded unutterably bored at the mere thought of her.

Jane laughed. "Well, how about some of the other sweet young things who phone you?" she said. "Honestly, Ted, this phone has done more business during the month you've been here than in the whole year. Those girls call and call, but you never bother to call them back. You never date any of them. Why don't you, Ted?"

So that was the day he took a few minutes off from clowning and talked quite seriously.

He balanced himself against a chair arm and lit a cigarette. "I don't bother with them because I'm not interested in any of them, Jane. They're all just—well, school kids. They look grown up but they talk and act like babies."

Jane said: "But, Ted, that sounds odd, coming from you. After all these girls are college girls, not so terribly young. Not too young for you, I'd say. And after all, you—"

She hesitated, and Ted gave her an odd look. "Go on; say it, Jane. I know what you want to say. That I'm pretty much of a screwball myself. But after all, beautiful, I have been through a rotten, nasty, tough little war. The toughest war in all time."

"Oh, I know, Ted. I didn't mean—"

"I've seen men dying around me like flies. I've heard men screaming in pain, and I've seen mild quiet little guys turn into brutes before my eyes, and I've learned to shoot men down and not feel anything at all while I was doing it."

Jane rose and walked toward him, her eyes bright with sympathy. "Why, Ted," she said. "I never heard you talk like this before."

"No. That's right. You never did."

After a while he seemed to remember the original subject of discussion. "About these little twerps who chase after me—chase all the guys, incidentally. I don't flatter myself that it's just me. Well, I was trying to tell you why I can't get steamed up over them."

"You see," Ted went on, "they belong to another world from the one in which I live. A few years ago, I had belonged to their world. But since then I've seen a world they will never see and I can't go back to their world. I don't want to. I don't," Ted said shortly, "want to be bothered with them."

"I see," Jane said. "I wonder if you do." He caught her hand, clung to it tightly. "I wonder if you see, understand, how much I wish that you weren't married."

"Don't say that, Ted. Don't say it."

"I am saying it. I have a right to say it, this once. I wish you weren't married, that you were free, that I had the right to try to make you love me."

Very gently she withdrew her hand from his. "It wouldn't make any difference, Ted. It wouldn't make a bit of difference."

Chapter 17
It was one evening, a week or so later, that Aunt Mae came over for one of her periodical "trouble-making" visits. Carl was up in his study, now on the second floor, and Jane and Ted were dancing to the music of a popular radio band.

Marching into the living room in her masterful way—she never bothered to ring or knock if the front door was unlocked—she took one look at Jane and her nose gave the impression of going up in the air without actually doing it. "Humph," she said.

Ted switched off the radio. It was the first time he and Jane's aunt had met, and when Jane introduced them, Ted grinned his infectious grin and said: "Hello, Aunt Mae. I've been wanting to meet you."

"Indeed," Aunt Mae looked him up and down. "You're a GI college student, I understand."

"That's right," Ted said.

"Getting your education for free," Aunt Mae continued.

"Right again."

"Well, young man, does it ever occur to you that the tax-payers, women like myself who have little enough to live on to start with, are being milked everywhere they turn to give you an easy living, while you fritter away your time pretending to get an education that you don't really want? It seems to me, young man, that the very least you could do, would be to put your time in to some advantage."

"I beg your pardon?" It was difficult to stifle Ted, but he did appear slightly floored by Aunt Mae's frontal attack.

"You heard me," she said. "And I assume you have sense enough to understand what I mean."

Still undaunted, Ted continued to grin. He said: "Well, look, Aunt Mae—"

"Don't call me Aunt Mae. My name is Markell, Miss Markell, and I prefer to be addressed by it. And now, young man, if you have no objection, I would like to have a little talk with my niece, alone. By the way, Jane, is Carl at home?"

Her tone fell as she peered toward the hall. "Has that fellow gone to his room? I don't care to have him listening to what I have to say. Why in the world you should take a stranger into this house—"

"He went out, I think," Jane said. "I heard the front door close."

What Aunt Mae had to say had a familiar ring. Did Jane realize that people were talking? Did she want to get herself talked about? It certainly looked like it.

"Talking?" Jane said, and smiled. "What are they talking about this time, darling?"

Aunt Mae folded her hands precisely in her lap. She sat very straight and breathed deeply. It was her contention that very few people either sat or breathed properly and that was the reason so many women had so little energy. She had an amazing fund of facts

News Of Interest To Home Builders--

GARAGE CAN BE CONVERTED INTO SUMMER PORCH

In the modern home, every room and any shelter connected with the house is expected to do double duty. Many homeowners get extra service from their garages by converting them into recreation rooms or summer porches. The family car does not need shelter in summer; it can stand in the driveway.

Most garages are ideally situated for such use, usually with a wall facing the yard. The first step is to open this wall and install removable screen panels extending from floor to roof line. Folding or overhead-type doors will shut out summer rain, and in the winter when the screens are taken down will serve as a wall.

The concrete floor should be painted in an attractive color. Furniture of light construction is best because minimum effort is required to move and store it in winter when the car goes back into the garage. Bright color should be used throughout the interior, and added summer comfort can be attained if the roof is insulated with mineral wool to keep excessive heat from entering the structure.

Without sacrificing space, built-in cupboards can usually be provided at small expense for storage of tools and equipment which has a place in the garage, and for books and articles used for summer living in this outdoor room.

Water Can Cause Foundation Damage

Small cracks developing in plaster near the ceiling and over doors, and between the baseboard and flooring, are a sign that the house is settling. It is a mistake to fill these cracks without getting at the cause of the trouble because the condition will continue and serious damage may result.

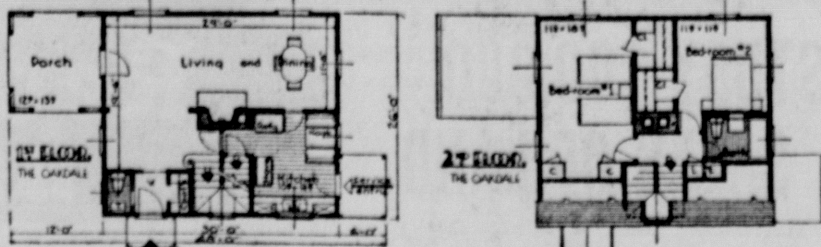

All houses settle somewhat, but if the tendency continues it is usually because excess water is soaking down around the foundation footings.

To prevent this, all eaves of the house should be equipped with gutters connected to down-spouts draining into a dry well at least ten feet away from the foundation wall. The lawn should be graded to slope slightly away from the house, and all depressions near the house filled so water cannot collect in them.

The Oakdale is for the family that loves good sized rooms. Including a full basement, it cubes about 19,000 cubic feet, by no means the smallest possible house. The living room is really immense, 29 feet long including the dining end. It is 19½ feet wide in the deep "L" out of which the attractive open stairway rises. One bedroom has over 200 square feet, exceeding Federal Housing Administration requirements by 100 per cent. The other has more than 130 square feet. The house features truly luxurious closets.

The living room and the large almost square living porch face the rear. The house may thus be placed near the street line to leave all the space possible in the back yard for garden and family recreation. Even the kitchen entrance is to the front, back of its own service screen.

For the small family that can afford to spend a little extra for the luxury of added spaciousness, The Oakdale is an admirable design. Complete architect's working drawings and specifications that conform to Federal Housing Administration standards and those of National Adequate Wiring Bureau, may be purchased from Housing Plan Service, 140 Nassau street, New York 7, N. Y.—for $7.50 per set.

DODGE FREIGHT COSTS

New York, Aug. 4 (AP)—The Iron Age, metalworking trade weekly, reported today that "steel buyers are turning in droves from rail to other forms of transportation wherever they can." Fabricators facing higher charges all along the line are finding this a fruitful field for cutting costs, the publication said.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Aug. 4 (AP)—Richard Walsh, 38, of Dunmore, Pa., was electrocuted yesterday on the Carey Avenue bridge when a charge jumped from a high tension line to a cable he was holding. County Coroner L. S. Reese said the cable was attached to a crane being used to move concrete foundations. Walsh, a structural steel worker, was attempting to get the crane in position to operate.

Thirty U. S. states prohibit marriage between white and Negro persons.

S.S. Teacher Will Debate 'Devil' Issue

Annapolis, Md., Aug. 4 (AP)—A Sunday school teacher who says he can prove in 10 minutes "there is no devil and no hell," will debate the subject with four other persons who say there is.

"These hell-and-devil ministers that try to scare everybody get my goat," Alexander W. Andrew of Shadyside, Md., said recently. So the Methodist Bible school teacher ran an advertisement challenging "any three Protestant ministers" to a debate on the existence of hell and the devil.

Accepting his challenge for a debate Friday are Evangelist Ben H. Atkinson, Church of Christ, Sunbury, Pa.; the Rev. James L. Smiley, vicar of St. Anne's Episcopal church at Annapolis; the Rev. Robert C. Smoot, pastor of North Avenue Presbyterian church, Baltimore, and Jerry H. Simpson Jr., theological student from Bethlehem, Pa.

Four Hanover Horses Look Good In Classic

Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 4 (AP)—Veteran harness horsemen look for a furiously contested Hambletonian Stakes one week from today at Good Time Park.

In the final heavy workout for any of the three-year-olds slated to go in the harness derby, Harrison Hoyt's Demon Hanover again asserted his right to the favorite's role. Demon Hanover worked two eye-opening miles in 2:03 4/5 and 2:03 flat.

However, four rivals appeared extremely sharp, particularly Rollo, from the Coldstream Stud, Lexington, Ky. Rollo, unraced yet this year, but likely to be a post-time favorite with the Demon, stepped a heat in 2:05 1/5, then came back with a sparkling 2:03.

Other impressive miles were turned in by Bill Strang's Madison Han-

New Royal Romance Has London Buzzing

London, Aug. 4 (AP)—Talk about a possible new royal romance has London society all abuzz today. The talk links Princess Margaret Rose with the Marquess of Blandford, handsome, 22-year-old cousin of Winston Churchill.

The Princess, who becomes of age (18) on August 21, has been seen in the company of Blandford frequently since he returned from duty in the Middle East as a lieutenant in the Life Guards. His family background is top drawer. He is a son of the 16th Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, whose estate, Blenheim Palace, is said to be the largest private home in England.

Princess Margaret, palace circles report, has said quite frankly that she wants to marry "when I meet the right man."

Curves can make a triangle.

New York, Aug. 4 (AP)—The P. W. Woolworth company, said last night it would "continue to refuse to sign a contract with any union which is not certified by the National Labor Relations board." The company's chain.

announcement, in a paid newspaper advertisement, came a day after the CIO Wholesale and Warehouse Workers union called off a threatened strike against the retail store chain.

HUGE FOREST FIRES MERGE

Toronto, Ont., June 4 (P) — Two roaring forest fires merged last night in the Mississagi and Chapleau areas of northern Ontario and are burning on a giant, 72-mile front.

The fire, regarded by many as the biggest and most extensive in Ontario's history, is traveling toward rich timberlands on the Bark lake area.

Smoke and flame are sweeping over 150,000 acres of green timber north of Blind river, Algoma district, lumbering town midway between Sault Ste. Marie and Sudbury.

The big fire is one of some 15 which cover about 130,000 acres, or more than 200 square miles of the region. Millions of dollars damage already has been done, forest officials said.

Hundreds of fighters are battling the merged blaze, but forestry men say only a drenching, three-day rain, can stop it. A west wind is pushing the flames ahead. Scattered thunder-showers are forecast today but the forestry men say they probably will be of little help.

Smoke in the green timber is bill-

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg — George Walter, of Baltimore, spent the week-end with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Joy.

Mrs. Valerie Overmann has returned to her home, West Main street, after spending the winter months with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Landon Edwards.

Mrs. E. L. Higbee and granddaughter, Mary Corl, returned Tuesday from Worcester, Mass., after spending a week with her brother, John Kilmer.

Mrs. John Krenzer, York, visited on Wednesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stonesifer.

Ruth and Rhoda Gillean have sold their Friends Creek camp, at which place they will hold a public sale on June 5.

Edward Shorb, near Motters, who was hit by a car while walking along Route 15 near Neighborhood Service station on Saturday evening, was discharged from the Warner hospital on Wednesday after being treated for cuts and bruises. The

Scribes "Couldn't See Much" Through 200-inch Telescope

Palomar Mountain, Calif., June 4 (P) — Astronomers ushered in a new scientific era today as they prepared to tackle the mysteries of the universe with the 200-inch Hale telescope—mankind's "window to the stars."

The giant telescope-camera atop Palomar mountain in southern California was dedicated formally yesterday by some of the nation's top-ranking scientists. It will afford them twice the space-penetrating power of any instrument previously at their disposal.

Newsman who took their first peek through the "big eye" last night labelled the show something of a disappointment.

Reporters Disappointed

They gazed at the planet Saturn but said they couldn't see much. Saturn, 71,500 miles across, appeared as a globe about two inches wide.

Astronomers patiently explained however, that looking through the telescope is meaningless. It wasn't designed for that.

When further tests are completed and additional equipment installed, the "big eye" will be used to take photographs. The photos will show reflections in the telescope's 14 1/2-ton mirror of light from as far distant as one billion light years.

These photographs, or prismatic spectographs, will be studied and analyzed painstakingly at California Institute of Technology.

Dr. Raymond B. Fosdick, president of the Rockefeller foundation which furnished $6,500,000 for the 20-year-project, put it this way:

"This great new window to the stars x x x will dramatize the questions which mankind has always asked. Are there other planets that have burst into consciousness like our own? Is there an answering intelligence anywhere in space? (Life on Mars?) And finally, in the words and spirit of the psalmist, what is man?"

Polished for 11 Years

The great mirror, cast at the Corning, N. Y., glass works in 1934, was brought to the California Institute of Technology optical laboratory, Pasadena, Calif., 135 miles north of here, in 1936.

For 11 years it was ground and polished to an accuracy of two-millionths of an inch.

Then, coddled and protected like a huge jewel, it was trucked to this 5,500-foot mountain top last November 18. Its telescopic mounting weighs 1,000,000 pounds. Its moving mechanism floats in a film of oil and is movable at the touch of a button. The giant instrument is housed in a rotating dome 12 stories high.

TRUMAN HEADS WEST ON TRIP

Aboard Truman Train En Route To Chicago, June 4 (P) — An outwardly confident President Truman rode westward today for a major test of his popularity on an 18-state "grass roots" speaking tour.

He told correspondents as he boarded the 16-car special train at Washington last night that "If I felt better, I couldn't stand it."

The train first paused briefly at Pittsburgh for an operational stop. Mr. Truman came to the rear observation platform to greet Mayor David L. Lawrence, national Democratic committeeman, and other officials. The president did not address the crowd.

The White House tagged the journey as "non-political" but no one questioned its possible effect on the political future of the gray-haired Missourian.

His first major, prepared address tonight at Chicago, at 9 o'clock (EST), shared interest with his prospective meeting there with Jacob M. Arvey, chairman of the powerful Cook county Democratic central committee, and his earlier platform appearances at Fort Wayne and Gary, Ind.

Arvey, who has advocated Mr. Truman's withdrawal from the race, last night, Stassen left here for Reno and will lunch tomorrow with Governor Warren of California.

STARTLING SPY STORIES NEW ONLY TO PUBLIC

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Aug. 4 (AP)—The startling story of the Communist-Russian wartime spy ring inside the government is new only to the public.

The FBI has investigated most of the people—maybe all—whose names have been mentioned in testimony before the House un-American activities committee and a Senate investigating committee.

The House un-American activities committee has questioned many of those people itself behind closed doors. And a number of those same people mentioned as taking part, knowingly or unknowingly, in the alleged spy ring have appeared before a grand jury investigating the ring.

But, so far as the public is concerned, the story began to break only last week.

Doors Thrown Open

That was when Miss Elizabeth T. Bentley, self-confessed Soviet spy and former Communist party member, appeared before the Senate committee.

The next day the House committee called her in, threw open the doors, and let the public hear what she had to say.

She named names and told of spy rings, made up of wartime government employees, working for the benefit of Russia.

Only one of all those she named is still in government employ. But you will have to go back a bit to understand how all this came about.

During the early war years, Miss Bentley said, she came regularly to Washington from New York to gather secret information for Russia from government employees.

No Indictments Yet

Later she suffered a change of heart and dropped out of the Communist party. In mid-1944 she went to the FBI and confessed.

About a year ago a New York federal grand jury began to investigate the story of spy rings working inside the government.

Miss Bentley told her story at length to the jury. And then the people she accused of spy work were called before the jury.

But after a year of investigation the grand jury still hasn't indicted anyone for spying. It still may do so, because it's still in session, but there's no indication it will.

On July 21 it indicted 12 top Communist party leaders for conspiracy to overthrow the government. But that was something aside from its year-long investigation of spying by government employees.

At this point the two Congressional committees decided to call Miss Bentley here to testify openly before them about the spy rings.

The chairman of the un-American activities committee—Rep. J. Parnell Thomas, New Jersey Republican—said he decided to throw Miss Bentley's information wide open to the public because he doesn't think the New York grand jury will indict anyone anyway.

Thomas wants a special grand jury called together here in Washington to pick up the investigation. Within a week he may ask the Attorney General to call the jury.

The Senate investigating committee, headed by Senator Ferguson, Michigan Republican, apparently also figured the New York grand jury investigation wasn't getting any place.

Littlestown

Littlestown—Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Crouse and family, along the Littlestown-Taneytown road, were host to the Littlestown Community band on Monday evening. Forty members of the band were present for rehearsal, after which swimming was enjoyed in the Crouse pool. Refreshments were served by the Crouse family. This band will furnish the music at the annual picnic of Grace Lutheran church, at Two Taverns on Saturday night. Anyone desiring to engage the services of the community band is asked to contact LeRoy Bish, who resides in the Hollinger apartments, South Queen and Lumber streets.

Outdoor meetings will be held by the Littlestown Lions' club during the month of August. The first of these meetings will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Crouse, along the Littlestown-Taneytown road. This meeting will be for the Lions and their families. These outdoor meetings are being held one hour earlier than semi-monthly meetings held in-doors. The attendance committee consisting of Erwin A. Rebert, Holman L. Sell and Robert L. Crouse will be in charge of Thursday's meeting.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion will be held in the post home, East King street on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. There are two very important items of business on the agenda. The membership will vote on the building plans for the proposed new post home and nominations of officers to serve during the coming year will be made.

The August meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, F.V.W. will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the post home, West King street. Initiation of new members will be held.

MILK CONSUMER IS PRICE VICTIM

Harrisburg, Aug. 4 (AP)—The father of Pennsylvania's milk control law thinks the consumer needs more protection in the spiraling of milk prices.

He is A. J. White Hutton, Dickinson college law school professor and Chambersburg attorney, who sponsored the law while he was a member of the 1933 legislature from Franklin county.

"The situation today is just about the reverse of 1933," he told a reporter. "Then the farmers needed protection; now the consumer needs it."

The milk control law was passed in the depths of the depression at a time when some farmers stopped selling milk rather than accept prices as low as five or six cents a quart.

Since then, both wholesale and retail prices have climbed until now the State Milk Control commission is admittedly planning a 2½ cents a quart boost August 16 to place the price at an all-time high of 23 and 23½ cents a quart in most of the state.

Hutton said the milk board was set to regulate the milk industry and assure an adequate supply of milk in Pennsylvania. The current trend, he added, seems to run to basing prices on competition between milk sheds rather than on the costs of production.

RED AUTUMN IN LADIES' STYLES

By FLORENCE MILLS

Paris, Aug. 4 (AP)—It's going to be a red autumn, if French Designer Carven has her way.

In her fall collection she exploits every conceivable hue of red—from deep tomato to fire engine red.

Main silhouette in the show lays the emphasis on tiny waists and draws attention to hip detail.

Main line of interest falls around the middle of the torso. She divides nearly all her dresses into 3 sections. They comprise a bodice which reaches to just below the bust; a wide waistcoat, molded to the waist by discreet panelling of darting, sometimes by a belt, and finally, a skirt which picks up where the yoke finishes. This last frequently has gathered or unpressed pleated fullness.

Each section is invariably defined by threaded velvet, soutache embroidery, jet beading or fancy seaming.

Saucy jackets introduce a new waistline.

A fine black wool suit had a brief jacket with a narrow peplum which started four inches above the natural waistline. Another jacket of black lamb had the same high waistline drawn tight, this time, with a drawstring. It had immense leg of mutton sleeves.

Stone Mason New Hungarian President

Budapest, Hungary, Aug. 4 (AP)—Arpad Szakasits, a former stone mason, journalist and poet, was elected President of Hungary Tuesday. The vote by Parliament was unanimous.

He succeeds Zoltan Tildy, who resigned last Friday, a few hours after his son-in-law, Dr. Victor Csorokny, was arrested and charged with espionage and treason.

When Imre Nagy, speaker of Hungary's parliament, announced that Szakasits was the only candidate for the Presidency, members of the Democratic Peoples Party and of the Christian Women's camp—both opposition groups—walked out. They returned to their seats after the speaker declared Szakasits elected.

Szakasits, who was nominated by the unified (Communist-ruled) Labor party, formerly was deputy premier, under Premier Lajos Dinnyes.

500 TO GATHER 'STRICTLY NUDE'

Mays Landing, N. J., Aug. 4 (AP)—Nudest enthusiasts, members of the American Sunbathing Association, convened today for their 17th annual convention at nearby Sunshine park.

Five hundred delegates were expected for the first meeting of the group held here since 1939.

Sessions will be strictly in the nude, says Dr. Hsley Boone, 69-year-old superintendent of the 2,000-acre park, where "clothes of any kind are strictly forbidden, without special permission."

Boone, a pioneer in the nudist movement in this country, opened Sunshine park in 1939 over the protests of local residents. The public is barred from the park, where some nudists spend summer vacations.

The delegates, who began arriving yesterday, with their clothes on, will be housed and entertained at the park. Two business sessions are scheduled daily, Boone said. He did not explain, however, what business would be discussed.

Free time during the convention will be passed by participation in athletic events, Boone said. A number of events will be mixed affairs, but some will be restricted to men or women only, he added.

Myers Family Will Gather On Saturday

The 25th anniversary reunion of the Myers family will be held Saturday in Forest park, Hanover. The all-day program from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. will include a box lunch at noon and an afternoon business session and program in the park pavilion.

Claude O. Meckley, Hanover, will address the group, and Prof. T. H. Myers, of Waynesboro, will give a memorial. The invocation will be offered by the Rev. Jacob Myers, Hanover. Musical numbers will be presented.

Officers are John F. Rauhauser, York, president; Harold O. Rinehart, Camp Hill, first vice-president; John H. Mumper, Dillsburg, second vice-president; Miss Faith Myers, Lemoyne, secretary; George F. Myers, treasurer, and Monroe Myers Feeder, Hanover, historian.

Light Earth Tremor At Atlantic City

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 4 (AP)—A slight earth tremor shook parts of this resort city yesterday. Residents reported feeling their homes vibrate and dishes rattling on the shelves.

City offices and newspaper desks were deluged with telephone calls from persons wanting information about the "earthquake."

In New York city, the Rev. Joseph J. Lynch, Fordham university seismologist, said a slight rumble was recorded on the university seismographs at 2:04:40 p. m. (EST). Residents here reported nothing a rumble between 3:45 p. m. and 4 p. m. (EST).

Father Lynch said no disturbance at this time was shown by his instruments, but he suggested this possibly was another of the same kind recorded earlier in New York.

Bullet Wounds Two Soldiers At Camp

Virginia Beach, Va., Aug. 4 (AP)—Private Anthony N. Malardi, 19, of Hazleton, Pa., was one of two regular army soldiers injured by the same bullet at Camp Pendleton.

Pvt. Walker R. Roberts, 19, of Shawnee, Okla., was examining a .45 caliber pistol on Monday when it was discharged accidentally.

Roberts was shot through the left leg and ankle. The bullet deflected and struck Malardi in the neck, passing through his body near the heart and emerging under the left shoulder.

Camp medical officers described Malardi's injuries as serious. He was taken to the Marine hospital at Norfolk, Va.

PRIEST DIES

Philadelphia, Aug. 4 (AP)—The Rev. William H. McCook, 63, rector of St. Aloysius church at Pottstown for the past five years, died on Monday while here to attend a funeral. Father McCook's failure to appear prompted Adelphi hotel attendants to enter his room where they found him dead apparently of a heart attack.

DEWEY VISIT TO OPEN CAMPAIGN

Harrisburg, Aug. 4 (AP)—Top Pennsylvania Republicans hoped today to start the fall election campaign with a speech by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey at Pittsburgh September 11.

State Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, Republican state chairman, disclosed he has asked Hugh D. Scott, Jr., national chairman, for the appearance of the Republican Presidential nominee.

"I haven't had an answer yet," Taylor said.

Tentative plans call for a meeting of the Republican state committee on the September 11 date, whether or not Dewey is able to attend.

Taylor and other party leaders, meanwhile, conferred on the slating of the names of 35 Republican candidates for Presidential electors to be placed on the November ballot.

"It is almost completed and will be announced shortly," he said.

On the Democratic front, State Chairman Philip Mathews issued another statement attacking the Republican-dominated Congress. He said GOP leaders plan "to abandon Washington" without action on the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill. Such action, Mathews said, "is an affront to veterans and other citizens who are victims of the housing shortage."

ROTARY TOLD

in book form which will consist of 99 volumes," he said.

Ladies' night will be observed next Tuesday evening, when the meeting will be held at the Gettysburg Country club at 6:15 o'clock. The program committee: Charles Ritter chairman; Richard Little, Bernard Schott and Roy D. Knouse will be in charge.

Sentz, Jr., and daughter, Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Schildt, White Hall, and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Rash, Woodbine, Md. and James C. Sentz, Hershey, were in Lancaster today, where they attended the funeral services of Mr. Calvin M. Sentz, Sr.'s, brother-in-law, James W. Hook. Mr. and Mrs. Hook were on a trip to Nova Scotia and Canada. While driving through New Hampshire on Saturday, Mr. Hook was stricken suddenly and died a few hours later in a New Hampshire hospital.

In preparation for the first Friday of the month, confessions will be heard in St. Aloysius church on Thursday from 4 to 5 p. m. and 7 to 8 p. m. Holy Communion will be distributed outside of mass, Friday at 5:45 and 7 a. m. with mass at 7:30 a. m.

Miss Vivian Brumgard, York Springs, was hostess to the August meeting of the Abigail Kammerer Missionary society of St. Paul's Lutheran church on Monday evening. The meeting was held on the lawn, and the lesson of the month was omitted. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Claude Miller, the vice president, Mrs. James Spalding was in charge of the routine business and Mrs. Mahlon Bucher presented the secretary's report. Mrs. George Schaffer presented the guest package which was received by Mrs. Dean Stover. The evening was given over to many games and contests after which the hostess served refreshments.

Because the September meeting night falls on Labor Day, the next meeting will be held a day later on Tuesday, September 7, at the home of Mrs. Milton Harner, who resides near town, along the Frederick pike. INSURANCE MAN DIES

Philadelphia, Aug. 4 (AP)—George D. Wood, personnel director of the Provident Mutual Life Insurance company of Philadelphia, is dead at 54. Wood, a resident of Moorestown, N. J., died on Monday in University hospital here after a short illness. He became associated with Provident in 1920, became assistant secretary of the company in 1926 and was named personnel director in 1946.

Holiday Turkeys To Cost More This Year

Washington, Aug. 4 (AP)—That Thanksgiving turkey will cost you more than ever this year, the Agriculture department forecast today.

The holiday birds retailed at about 60 cents a pound last November here in Washington.

The department also said there is no prospect of lower chicken and egg prices before next year. The reason: farmers reduced poultry flocks the past year because feed grains were scarce as well as high.

However, latest crop reports for the feeding year beginning October 1 indicate the feed supplies will be largest on record. And department officials expect this to be a major factor in encouraging farmers to produce more poultry in 1949—thus trimming your Thanksgiving turkey outlay this year.

STUDY 100,000 SALES OF LAND

Harrisburg, Aug. 4 (AP)—More than 100,000 properties changed hands in Pennsylvania in the past 12 months, says the state's tax equalization board.

The disclosure was made yesterday on the basis of reports filed by county commissioners with the board. The agency is charged with allocating state school aid on a basis of actual market values of real estate instead of on county assessments.

Sixty-six of the 67 counties in the Commonwealth now are reporting regularly the selling prices and assessed valuations of taxable property. The law requires county commissioners to make monthly reports of all real estate transfers. The delinquent county was not named.

These reports contain a description of the property, the names of the persons involved in the sale, the value of federal tax stamps and the assessed valuation for county tax purposes, the board said.

"This information," added Chairman John O'Neill, "is to assist the board in arriving at market values in each of the school districts."

The board's biggest job is to certify market values of real estate in each of the state's more than 2,500 school districts. Before the July 1, 1949, deadline for the first report, although the board hopes to have it ready sooner.

"Some certifications will be made this fall in order to afford an opportunity for study by school officials," the board said.

JOB FOR GORDON

Harrisburg, Aug. 4 (AP)—A California assignment is today awaiting Seth E. Gordon, retiring executive director of the Pennsylvania Game commission. The California wildlife conservation announced at San Francisco late yesterday that Gordon will make a study of California wild life for the board on a contract basis.

PRICE INDEX FOR FARMS TRIPLED

Harrisburg, Aug. 4 (AP)—The state Agriculture department today said the current Pennsylvania farm price index is triple that of the 1909-14 average.

On the basis of 1909-14 prices averaging 100, the index for all farm products is now 301; crops, 267; livestock and products 312, including meat animals at 398, a new record; dairy products, 318; poultry and eggs, 241, the department said.

A Federal-State survey showed declining prices for new crop grains were more than offset by price boosts in livestock.

Milk cow prices advanced $1 in the past year to a record $225 average per head between June 15 and July 15, the survey indicated.

At the same time, the department said a weather and crop summary is showing that fall plowing has started in southern Pennsylvania as harvesting of early peaches and market movements of tomatoes and sweet corn reached their peak.

A lack of rainfall up until yesterday slowed the growth of most crops, the department disclosed in explaining that precipitation was about one-third of normal in most areas.

Jews And Arabs Battle On, Awaiting Decision On U. N. Cease Fire Deadline

LAND, SEA AND AIR CONFLICTS ARE CONTINUED

By MAX BOYD

Cairo, June 4 (AP)—The Palestine war, going on during truce negotiations, finds Arabs pressing Israel by land, sea and air and Jews whacking at a northern Arab triangle.

Both sides last night claimed victories around Isdud, 20 miles south of Tel Aviv, Israeli capital. Egypt said her navy had bombed Caesarea, 30 miles north of Tel Aviv. Israel reported her fighter planes had shot down two Egyptian bombers after a Tel Aviv raid.

Jewish communiques said Israeli forces had fought into Jenin, were threatening Nablus from two sides and had bombed Nablus, hitting a police fortress. Jenin is the northernmost and Nablus the southernmost city of an Arab "triangle of strength" extending west to Tulkarm and threatening Tel Aviv, about 22 miles to the southwest.

Swedish Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations Palestine mediator, flew back to Cairo today for more conferences with Arab leaders.

He is trying to fix the time for the start of a four-week cease fire already agreed to by both sides. He talked yesterday and last night with the trans-Jordanian and Israeli foreign ministers in Amman and Haifa. Moshe Shertok, the Israeli minister, said no truce date was set.

The Egyptian defense ministry said last night the Egyptian navy sank one boat and shot up dockside buildings in bombarding Caesarea, a little port founded by Herod the Great. It did not list participating vessels.

Jane's Fighting Ships, 1946-47, says the Egyptian navy had the royal yacht, a 2,650-ton transport, a sloop and five motor launches, with fire power of machineguns, 37-millimeter guns and three and six pounder guns. It says planned additions for 1947-49 were three sloops, two corvettes, four mine-sweepers and smaller craft, all from Britain.

The ministry said Egyptian troops headed for Tel Aviv beat the Jews in a fierce all-night battle in Isdud. The Israelis attacked Wednesday night, its communique said, but were beaten back with heavy losses, and the Egyptians "dispersed enemy troops and pursued the escaping enemy everywhere."

Six miles southeast of Isdud, the Egyptians claimed to have thrown back a strong counterattack on positions around Negba, taken Wednesday, to have killed more than 400 Jews, and to have brought down an Israeli plane with anti-aircraft fire.

An earlier Israeli communique told a different story. It said Jewish forces surrounded an Egyptian infantry column near Isdud and destroyed tanks and trucks that tried to break the encirclement. It reported Egyptian casualties high.

Margiotti Will Defend Girl, 17, On Murder Charge

Pittsburgh, June 4 (AP)—Former state's attorney general Charles J. Margiotti has announced he will defend, without charge, 17-year-old Delores Waldo, who is charged with the murder of her aunt last Saturday.

The Commonwealth alleges the 100-pound girl, formerly a ward of the juvenile court, beat Mrs. Gertrude Norris to death with a flower pot, then set the elderly woman's clothing afire.

Margiotti said "society has been derelict in its duty in failing to see that Delores Waldo has had proper care. This little orphan girl has never had a chance in life," and added: "Society will now seek to take the life or liberty of its ward for society's own dereliction. I will defend her to the utmost of my ability, free of charge and at my own expense, because of the human principle involved."

S.S. Asks Changes In Brides' Names

With the annual June bride season here, a word of advice was offered by Sanford Blumenthal, manager of the Social Security Administration field office, York, servicing York and Adams counties.

After marriage, the bride, if she expects to enter or continue in covered employment, should complete a change of record form to show her married name. This action will permit the proper crediting of all wages earned and reported under the married name. Mr. Blumenthal pointed out the importance of this fact, as all future benefits are based upon total wages reported by employers and credited to each worker's individual account.

The number originally assigned remains the same throughout an employee's work history. A new card is substituted showing the married name. Mr. Blumenthal added, Change of record forms can be obtained at the field office in the York post office building. Requests by mail can be handled.

A representative of the York office will be available for this purpose and for claims filing assistance in Hanover on June 7, at 10 a. m. in the post office building; at the State Employment Service office, Baltimore street, Gettysburg, at 1 p. m. June 30, and at the Biglerville fire house on the same day at 10:30 a. m.

ident, at a fifth councilor district meeting here yesterday.

Receiving the certificates were Dr. Newton E. Bitzer, and Dr. Howard R. Bryson, both of Lancaster; Dr. William G. Hess, of Holtwood; Dr. George W. Hartman, and Dr. Edwin A. Nicodemus, both of Harrisburg, and Dr. William B. O'Rear, of Waynesboro.

MONUMENT TO MUSICIAN

Washington, June 4 (AP)—A Pennsylvania-inspired monument to Herbert Lincoln Clarke, one-time John Philip Sousa's assistant conductor, was dedicated yesterday with several Keystone music lovers participating. The monument, designed, made and erected by David P. King, a bandmaster from York, Pa., is across the stone driveway from Sousa's grave. The move to erect the memorial originated with the Pennsylvania Bandmasters association and later was joined by numerous other organizations.

Leatherwood, Pa., June 4 (AP)—Let horse thieves beware next Tuesday night!

On that date the Leatherwood anti-horse thief association will hold a banquet in the Presbyterian church, celebrating its 80th anniversary. Guests are promised chicken and strawberries.

The event will be an effort to preserve the association as the last chartered organization of its kind in the state, a relic of the days when men had to band themselves together as vigilantes to ward off raids on their livestock.

HEAR BROTHER OF SLAIN MAN

Harrisburg, June 4 (AP)—The state called a brother of one of the two men slain in a church shooting to testify at the murder trial of 51-year-old George Minoff, of Steelton.

The witness immediately refuted defense counsel's contention that Minoff had acted in "self defense" in the slaying of Koche Atseff, 24, and Boris Mioff, 32, last April 4 in the Macedonian-Bulgarian church at Steelton.

Minoff is charged with first degree murder in the death of the two men. Judge W. C. Sheely of Gettysburg is presiding at the trial.

George Mioff, brother of the slain Boris, testified yesterday that the defendant was at least 15 feet away from a group of church members who he said were arguing over selection of a new pastor.

Mioff told the jury that in the midst of the confusion Minoff rose to his feet, walked toward the disputants, pulled his gun and fired the shots which killed the two men.

Two other eye witnesses, Alex Kormushoff and Alex Spaseff, affirmed Mioff's story of the shooting.

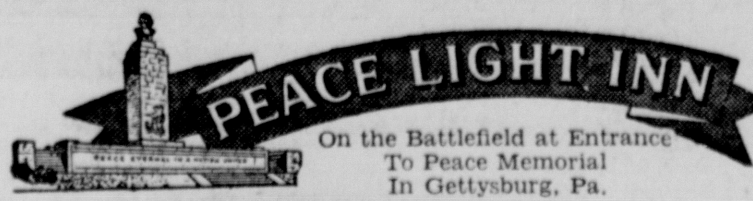

Defense attorney Walter Compton had argued earlier that Minoff had fired the shots only after he was attacked during the argument, and then acted in "self defense." Compton, in cross-examining Mioff, declared that Mioff had said at the inquest that he had not seen the shooting. Compton questioned Mioff on this discrepancy and Mioff replied that he didn't remember what he said then.

It is estimated that more than half a million people die in the U. S. every year from causes brought on by high blood pressure.

CONGRESS IS IN HURRY TO GO TO PHILADELPHIA

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, June 4 (AP) — Congress is trying to finish in a rush by June 19, so it can go to the political conventions.

And when it tackles unimportant things, it acts like it's going to a fire. The Senate on Wednesday rammed through 52 minor bills. But on the big stuff it's still pretty slow going. Long debates. Jockeying around.

There's no such sharp division between Democrats and Republicans. In both American parties there are "conservatives" and "liberals."

True, on some issues the Democrats and Republicans close their ranks and vote pretty strictly along party lines. But most of the time — on the big issues — plenty of members of both parties want to get up and speak their pieces. Why?

Party Lines Often Broken
Because they think they can influence other members; or they want to be on record for or against something; or they feel so strongly about an issue they have to talk.

As a result — party lines are crossed and on some things Republicans line up with Democrats, Democrats with Republicans.

Because of this endless crossing of party lines, people in other countries probably wonder sometimes what difference there really is between the two parties.

Russia's Joseph Stalin, for example, taking a dim view of what happens here anyway, once said he sees no difference between Democrats and Republicans.

Plenty Of Debate

Even the president can't always lead the members of his party in congress along the road he wants them to take. Although he's head of his party, its members may turn against him bitterly on a big issue.

That happened this year when President Truman urged congress to pass a civil rights program that would have benefitted negroes mostly.

Since that southern storm hit him, Mr. Truman hasn't said much about pushing his civil rights program through congress. When the big issues come up — like letting some of Europe's displaced persons in

Orrtanna

Orrtanna—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bowman and children, Charles Dale and Janet, Chambersburg, Pa. 3; Mrs. Mertle Holsinger, Chambersburg, Pa. and Mrs. Harry Lind and daughter, Jean, of Harrisburg, visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Mark Saum at the H. B. Saum home.

Herbert Deardorff made a business trip to Condersport, Potter county, one day the past week.

Mrs. Clarence Mickleby has returned home after several weeks' stay with relatives in York.

Charles Myrick returned home after spending sometime in Philadelphia.

Miss Betty Jo Naugle, of Allentown, spent the week-end with her mother and sister, Mrs. Fred Naugle and Miss Winifred Naugle, and also attended commencement exercises of the Gettysburg high school. Winifred Naugle was a member of the graduating class.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Yoder and family, of Essex, Md., visited over the week-end with Mr. Yoder's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Yoder.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stoner and family returned to Pasadena, Md., after a visit with relatives here.

Dr. and Mrs. Otto Moellmer and two sons, of Rupert, Idaho, recently here — there's plenty of debate in congress.

Mr. Truman had urged congress to let some of them in here. But the main opposition, when the Senate on Wednesday night passed a bill to do this, came from his southern Democrats.

Divided Thinking
The vote on the bill to let in 200,000 displaced persons over the next two years was: For the bill — 63 Democrats and Republicans altogether. Against the bill — 12 southern Democrats and one Republican.

A good illustration of the divided thinking in congress — not only among members of the same party but among members from the same section of the country — is this: Senator Eastland, Mississippi Democrat, spoke for a long time against the bill. Senator Pepper, Florida Democrat, spoke for a long time for it.

In spite of its hurry to get done, the Senate debated that bill all day Wednesday and far into the night before passing it.

SEEK DRIVER IN KIDNAPING CASE

York, Pa., June 4 (AP) — The man-hunt for a young taxi driver accused of kidnapping a 17-year-old York girl was concentrated today near two Maryland cities where he was reported seen.

Special patrol cars of the Maryland police kept a sharp watch on all roads near Bel Air and Aberdeen where a cab driver reported last night seeing Arthur D. Deets, Jr., 21.

Leslie Jackson, of the Pennsylvania state police, said the cab driver told police he saw Deets driving on the highway between the two cities. Jackson said the cab driver insisted it was Deets and said he knew him by sight.

The kidnapping charge against Deets was filed by Thomas T. Kalinoski, 25, of New Britain, Conn., after his wife Mary Witman Kalinoski, disappeared from the home of her parents here Friday night.

Maryland police were alerted to and family have moved to the property they recently erected west of Fairfield from the Charles Ditzler property here.

Mrs. Wilbert Riggsal, who was recently discharged from the Warner hospital following an operation, is reported convalescing satisfactorily at her home here.

Pitt Faced With Crowded Conditions

Pittsburgh, June 4 (AP) — The University of Pittsburgh which announced a $16,200,000 building program last night, is currently faced with its most crowded condition in history.

Chancellor Rufus H. Fitzgerald, in an address at a dinner of civic and business leaders who were told of the program, cited these examples:

"For the 96 freshman places in dentistry for next fall we have something like 1,800 applications. For the 86 places in medicine there have been 2,300 applicants."

SEEK SUPPORT ON JUDGE PLAN

Harrisburg, June 4 (AP) — Wide-spread public support will be sought for the plan of the Pennsylvania Bar association to take the selection of judges out of politics.

Edward J. Fox, Jr., chairman of the association's committee on the plan, urged today "wide backing" from the general public for the proposal to change the state constitution so that judges will serve a year on probation before seeking a full term from the voters on a non-partisan basis.

The plan, he said in a report to the association's annual meeting to be held at Atlantic City, N. J., June 28—July 1, "should not come to the Legislature solely as a project of

The appointed judge would serve on trial for a year and then his name would be submitted to the electorate on a separate ballot without party designation.

ITALY READY TO YIELD POWER TO EUROPEAN UNION

Rome, Aug. 4 (AP)—Italy is ready to take the lead in surrendering national sovereignty to bring about European union, Foreign Minister Count Carlo Sforza said today.

The bearded, 74-year-old statesman urged union now as the only cure for the continent's postwar economic and political ills and the sole hope for peace.

To bring it about and to do away with "archaic frontiers and archaic customs duties," he declared in an interview, this nation is ready to "accept curtailment of its political sovereignty, even in the most unexpected aspects."

Communists Demur
He said there was but one condition: "that others do the same."

A long-time advocate of unity, Count Sforza had his hand strengthened last week when the Senate, in approving the European Recovery Program accords, urged their early

Power Breakdown Frees Sulphur Fumes

Claymont, Del., Aug. 4 (AP)—A power breakdown at the Claymont plant of the General Chemical and Dye Corp. Monday night loosed sulphur dioxide fumes over a wide area.

Prolonged coughing and smarting eyes brought nearby residents discomfort, but the fumes were harmless, a company spokesman said.

The same area was shaken 24 development into effective union. Only Communists and fellow-traveling Socialists demurred. The question of national sovereignty has been and is one of the primary stumbling blocks in the way of a united Europe.

"To say that European countries ought to federate," the Italian foreign minister said, "is to say that they must restrain in their economic life useless competition and divergent efforts."

"It means renouncing progressive areas of sovereignty, customs barriers, financial restriction, anti-economic distribution of tasks and functions. It is these little and harmful autarchies that bear one single fruit: the misery of Europe."

RUSSIANS GIVE PLAN ON DANUBE

Belgrade, Aug. 4 (AP)—The Russians presented today their draft plan which would give Communist-ruled states of eastern Europe exclusive control over the Danube river.

Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky presented the proposal to the Danube conference, where the Russian bloc outvotes the U. S., Britain and France seven to three.

He demanded what he called "protection" of the sovereign rights of the Danubian states over the 1,800-mile waterway, the major one in Central Europe. Each participant-

The acid, but colorless sulphur dioxide fumes were released a company spokesman said, when a transformer in the main substation broke down. The transformer supplied power to the sulphuric acid unit located near the Delaware river.

Invoke Old Law In Damage Suit

Pittsburgh, Aug. 4 (AP)—A 94-year-old law was invoked yesterday in a $25,000 damage suit filed in common pleas court.

Louis C. Adler of Wildwood asked that amount against Joseph Enie and Ross Petrone, both of Wildwood, claiming their "carelessness and negligence" resulted in his face being scarred and disfigured.

The suit charges that Enie, inebriated by liquor sold him by Petrone, a tavern-keeper, struck Adler with a beer bottle.

An 1854 law says anyone who sells drinks to a second person is responsible for any injuries caused by the second person.

Carlisle, Pa., Aug. 4 (AP)—Gerald W. Ray, 37, Greenville, who admitted being arrested 86 different times all over the United States, was sentenced to a six to 12-month term here yesterday on a larceny charge. Judge Dale E. Shughart of Cumberland county imposed the sentence. Ray was convicted of stealing $50 in cash from an airport office at nearby Lemoyne.

ing country would have immediate control of the waters on its own borders.

Vishinsky explained the Soviet draft point by point. He asserted it would do away with the "privileged position" given non-Danubian states by the 1921 Paris convention for control of the river's shipping.

He asserted the Russian plan would "fully satisfy the requirements of justice, safeguard sovereign rights and withhold unjustified privileges for non-Danubian states."

CHAMBERSBURG PASTOR IS SHOT

Chambersburg, Pa., Aug. 4 (AP)—Coroner S. D. Shull returned a finding today of suicide in the shotgun death of the Rev. Trostle P. Dick, 60, Chambersburg pastor.

Dr. Shull said that Mr. Dick, pastor of the Fourth Street Church of the Brethren, Chambersburg, had been in ill health for some time.

Chambersburg, Pa., Aug. 4 (AP)—The Rev. Trostle P. Dick, 60, Chambersburg, was found shot to death last night in a field three miles from Chambersburg.

Mr. Dick, pastor of the Fourth Street Church of the Brethren, Chambersburg, was visiting at the farm home of Fred Witter, a member of the church.

Witter said the pastor borrowed his rifle during the afternoon, saying he intended to hunt ground-hogs.

When Mr. Dick failed to return for dinner, Witter went in search of him and found his body slumped against a tree. A bullet had penetrated the body. The rifle was found near the body.

Mr. Dick had been pastor of the Chambersburg church since July, 1946. Before that time he was pastor of the Coventry church near Pottsville for 18 years. He was a native of Pottstown.

Ex-State Senator In Critical Condition

Harrisburg, Aug. 4 (AP)—Charles E. Miller, 57, identified by Chief of Police Oscar Blough as a former state senator from Northumberland county, was described as in a serious condition today at Harrisburg hospital from a fracture of the skull.

Blough said that Theodore Magnelli, Harrisburg, posted $1,000 bond on an open charge awaiting outcome of Miller's injuries. The police chief said the two men had an argument last Friday night, and that during it Magnelli "gave Miller a push." The latter fell, Blough said, striking his head on cement steps.

Blough said that while Miller's address was listed as Mt. Carmel he had been around Harrisburg for some time records showed. He served in the Senate in the sessions of 1933 and 1935.

MONTH'S TRUCE MIGHT PRODUCE A COMPROMISE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)
Agreement for a four week armistice in the Arab-Jewish war will, made to stick, be a matter of tremendous gratification from several viewpoints:

1. For at least that period the danger of another world war growing out of the smaller conflict will be greatly lessened.
2. Even a brief cessation in the bloodshed, and senseless destruction of relics which are sacred to great religions, will be a godsend.
3. It will have asserted the authority (and, equally important, the dignity) of a hitherto divided and weak United Nations.

4. Within that month some sort of bargain perhaps might be made between the Jews and the Arabs.

Accomplished Fact
Of course, the Arabs insist that they won't recognize the new Jewish state of Israel and that it must be abolished. However, the creation of Israel is a fait accompli, a fact which is confirmed through its recognition by 10 nations, including the United States and Russia. There is no way in which the establishment of Israel could be undone, except by force of arms, and that would mean war to a finish, since the Jews have sworn to defend their state to the end.

Now no one questions the bravery of the Arabs or their willingness to fight. They have been famous warriors throughout the centuries. Still, no one does question the wisdom of trying to settle by the sword an argument whose end cannot be foreseen but might be a global conflagration which would wreck the hopes of both Arabs and Jews. Another war might change the entire complexion of the Middle East to the disadvantage of Arabs and Jews.

Speculation on a possible truce evolves in part about King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan, commander in chief of all the Arab armies attacking Palestine. Abdullah is the outstanding Arab personality involved in the conflict and his own army is the most powerful fighting force of all those involved.

Some observers hold the view that he might be inclined to bargain with the Jews, unless the opposition of the other Arab states was too strong. It is noted that before the war he was reputed to be less anti-Jewish than other Arab chiefs.

Moreover, Abdullah is under heavy obligations to Britain. His legion is British trained, British equipped and British officered, having been created under treaty to maintain order among the wild tribesmen along the Palestine frontier. He also receives an annual subsidy of about 2,000,000 pounds sterling ($8,000,000).

Since Britain is anxious for peace in Palestine, one must assume that Abdullah would like to fall in line. Presumably his attitude would be influenced greatly by its effect on his prestige with the other Arab states.

Find Securities In Home Of Suicide
Philadelphia, June 4 (AP)—Investigation of an alleged shortage in city amusement tax funds uncovered $15,000 in cash and $3,000 in war bonds at the home of William C. Foss, city employee whose death touched off the probe in the receiver of taxes office.

The money was found in a tin box to which Mrs. Foss turned over the key. Foss was found hanged in his home last week.

"She said she believed the money belonged to the city and that she didn't want anything that didn't belong to her," receiver of taxes W. Frank Marshall said yesterday.

Foss' deposit box was impounded.

Now, here is a CULTIVATOR that really knocks out weeds

Some folks say a cultivator ought to "let air into the soil," "help retain moisture" etc. We say you cultivate to get rid of weeds. The other things are important, but knocking out weeds is number one. And we'll show you the cultivator that does it.

What's more, this cultivator can be attached to the Ford Tractor in about a minute! Now, that is a big advantage... especially when changing from cultivating to mowing and back again. Time surely is money now.
